Doukhobor Case Up

VANCOUVER (CP)—Trial opened in the Supreme Court here today of an action in which the National Trust Co. Limited is seeking a declaration that the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act of 1934 does not apply to liabilities of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, business organization of Doukhobor settlers in British Columbia.

The trust company contends the British Columbia board of review, set up under the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act, 1934, has no jurisdiction to hear an application by the Doukhobor company.

On June 23, seven days before expiration of the act in this province, the Doukhobors applied to the board for reduction of its indebtedness of $168,283 on bonds held by the trust company as trustee.

Alarm at Paris; Nazis Lose Planes

PARIS (AP)—Thundering anti-aircraft guns shortly after midnight today turned back an invading plane while Parisians huddled in air raid shelters. Alarms gave the city a five-minute margin of warning.

The plane was sighted at 12:12 a.m. (4:12 p.m., Wednesday, P.S.T.). It wheeled over the capital and then flew out of range of anti-aircraft guns. There were no reports of bombs dropped. The all clear signal came at 1 a.m.

One minute before the Paris alarm, northwestern France was put on a state of alert. Several hours earlier two air raid warnings were sounded in northern France.

TWO MORE BAGGED
PARIS (CP-Havas)—A German plane was shot down today during an air battle between German and British squadrons near Chalons-sur-Marne, some 90 miles northeast of Paris.

It was the Germans' second loss of the day. Another plane was shot down by French aircraft, it was reported from Franche-Comte.

The three-man crew of the plane brought down near Chalons-sur-Marne took to their parachutes. One was killed and another wounded. The third was not injured.

OVER SHETLANDS
LONDON (CP)—Plane engines were heard again over the Shetlands early this morning and searchlights were in action.

German airmen who raided the Shetland Islands Wednesday, were to schoolchildren in the streets of the town and then proceeded to machine gun aviators escaping from a British seaplane which the Germans bombed at its moorings, witnesses said today.

One of the six German machines swooped low, it was said, with its machine guns blazing. Bullets, cutting the water as the German craft approached, passed right through the helpless seaplane.

WITH THE BRITISH ROYAL AIR FORCE IN FRANCE (AP)—Seven German bombing and reconnaissance planes were reported shot down today by British pursuit planes on the western front. Authorities said all the British pilots returned to their bases.

(Yesterday Air Force authorities reported British and French planes had shot down seven German craft while anti-aircraft fire destroyed another. French losses then were given as two and the British as none.)

PRO-ALLY PREMIER FOR RUMANIA

BUCHAREST (CP-Havas)—Georges Tatarescu, former Rumanian ambassador to France and regarded as among the most pro-ally of this country's leading statesmen, was commissioned by King Carol tonight to form a new cabinet.

If he succeeds his ministry will replace the government of Constantine Argetoianu, which withdrew today following the resignation last night of the Minister of National Economy, I. Bujoiu.

Tatarescu, who has headed past governments, was designated at a crown council meeting held by the king late this afternoon.

Argetoianu was named premier a week after the assassination of Premier Armand Calinescu by members of the outlawed Fascist Iron Guard. His appointment ended an interim military rule with Gen. George Argescu as premier.

The resignation followed closely on Rumania's refusal to grant an increase of nearly 50 per cent in the exchange rate of the German mark—a blow at German hopes for greater trade with this country.

A German economic mission, having failed to get the rate raised from 41.5 Rumanian lei to 60 lei for each mark, left for Berlin by air last night.

Browder at Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Yale's historic campus gates were opened today to Earl Browder, Communist leader. Conrad Selpp, secretary of the Yale Peace Council, announced President Charles A. Seymour had granted the student group permission to have Browder speak in a university building. Selpp said the council decided to bring Browder to New Haven because the latter's "civil liberties have been attacked by Princeton, Dartmouth and Harvard." The Communist leader will speak here next Tuesday.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—George Schachter, 48, a clothing dealer, was shot to death in front of his home last night in what police said was apparently a gangland killing. Two men in a black sedan without license plates drew up beside Schachter's automobile, as the victim arrived at his house and shot him three times.

SEEK OWNER OF SUBMERGED CRAFT

Without tangible clues to assist them, British Columbia Police today pressed every effort to find trace of the owner of the Columbia River fishboat found submerged in Haskyn Inlet November 17.

Constable M. N. McAlpine, dispatched from Courtenay, has forwarded a description of the sunken craft to headquarters here but reports there is nothing which might lead to the owner's identity.

The boat is 30 feet long, has a 9-foot beam, and the hull is grey with a broad white stripe above the guard rail. There is a small wheel house forward. She is powered with a six-cylinder Nash automobile engine and is rigged for fishing. A false keel led police to believe she may have been converted from a sailing boat.

Two pairs of brown oxfords, size 4 or 5, a pair of caulked boots, the same size, Swedish and Vancouver newspapers, a Bible in which was written "Douglas Alaska" were all that was found aboard.

Half of U.S. Has Thanksgiving
WASHINGTON (AP)—Families in 25 states sat down today at the "first table" of the United States dual Thanksgiving, joining in President Roosevelt's expressed hope that the world soon will be at peace.

The "second table" will not be served until next Thursday, in states whose governors declined to follow the President's decision to advance the holiday week.

Despite the confusion over the date, there was unanimity in echoing Mr. Roosevelt's proclamation:

"Let us give thanks to the Ruler of the universe... for the hope that lives within us of the coming of the day when peace and the productive activities of peace shall begin on every continent."

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt led today's celebrants. As usual, Mr. Roosevelt will carve a big turkey tonight at the Warm Springs, Ga., Infirmary Paralysis Foundation.

Seven patients, chosen by lot, will sit at the same table with the President while he piles their plates with turkey and all the other trimmings of a holiday dinner.

It was just another Thursday in Plymouth, Mass., where the first Thanksgiving was held. Residents of Plymouth will celebrate next week, along with the whole of New England.

Three states—Colorado, Texas and Mississippi—got around the argument over dates by assigning two Thanksgiving Days. Mayors of several cities did the same thing. Mayor C. D. White of Atlantic City, N.J., in proclaiming two holidays, said:

"Tomorrow shall be celebrated by the city as 'Thanksgiving,' in honor of our President, and the next Thursday shall be celebrated as 'Thanksgiving.'"

REICH U-BOAT LOSSES OVER 20

PARIS (CP-Havas)—The two U-boats sunk by a single French torpedo boat in three days, as announced last night, brought Germany's submarine losses at the hands of the British and French navies to "more than 20," it was stated in authoritative naval circles here today.

Since Germany was credited at the outbreak of war with about 60 U-boats, of which only 20 were capable of long-distance cruising, this total was regarded as extremely satisfactory.

The two undersea vessels accounted for by the French torpedo boat were definitely sunk, these sources said. The circumstances were such that the ordinary margin of doubt that usually accompanies attacks on U-boats was entirely absent.

Benes Says Hitler Will Be Crushed

LONDON (CP)—Former President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia today said the "present-day Nazi dictatorship is incomparably worse than the Kaiser's" and militarism of the Kaiser.

At a banquet at Grosvenor House, he said Czechoslovakia had not been destroyed but "continues to live and exists."

"The war is a new, great struggle for the same principles as in 1914 and must end in the crushing of Hitlerism," he declared.

Jan Masaryk, former Czechoslovak minister in London, said "what is going on makes of Europe a jungle, pure and simple."

"I have heard some English people say Hitler is a genius," Mr. Masaryk added. "He is in a way an evil genius with the ability to stir up the very worst tendencies of the Teutonic race."

12-Month Sentence

REGINA—Max Stepp today faced a sentence of 12 months in jail at hard labor. The penalty was imposed last yesterday at the end of a trial in Royal Canadian Mounted Police Court. In which he had pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to communicate with the enemy.

Holland Protests Tighter Blockade

THE HAGUE (AP)—The Netherlands government announced today it had protested strongly to Great Britain against her decision to seize German exports in neutral ships.

The Netherlands envoy to London was said to have told the British government that the measure, although directed against Germany, would strike heavily against neutral countries which carry goods.

LONDON (CP)—Representations from the Netherlands government concerning the British decision to confiscate German exports were delivered to the Foreign Office today, according to diplomatic circles.

They did not take the form of a "protest," but advanced certain arguments against the decision, the same circles said. Such action had been expected, and a protest would not have provoked surprise.

The Belgian government is expected to take no action here until after publication of the British order-in-council giving details of the application of the decision.

SAILINGS CANCELED

AMSTERDAM (CP-Havas)—Dutch shipowners today sought a way out of the shipping crisis that threatens to immobilize the Netherlands' seaborne trade.

The government's advice to shipping companies to suspend departures until the menace of mines disappears was accepted by all lines. But this suspension cannot continue for long, since merchant shipping is vital to Dutch economy.

It was explained that the suspension of schedules advised by the government was the result exclusively of the mine menace. The British reprisal measure against the Reich, the seizure of all German exports, had nothing to do with the move, it was stated authoritatively.

From January to October of this year more than 10,000,000 tons of German goods were shipped to foreign ports from Amsterdam and Rotterdam. The figure for shipments during October is not known.

Last night representatives of the big shipping companies met at The Hague and considered the situation.

It was unanimously agreed that Dutch ships must continue to ply the sea routes or else the Netherlands must accept economic suicide. The shipping companies will attempt to take every possible precaution before sending their vessels out.

Some consideration was given to choice of new routes, especially the possibility of a northern route to the Atlantic via the British controlled port of Kirkwall in the Orkney Islands. There were many objections to this on various grounds, however, and most of the shippers expressed their intention of continuing to use the English Channel, following British naval communications to avoid danger zones as far as possible.

It was understood that L. Smit and Co., operators of an international tug service, were proposing convoys of vessels preceded by the specially-equipped tug Zwartee to sweep mines from their course. Several lines have signified acceptance of the offer.

HITLER AND AIDES DISCUSS WAR MOVES

BERLIN (AP)—Adolf Hitler discussed the progress of the war today with the leaders of Germany's armed forces in a meeting at the chancellery. It was Hitler's annual fall reception of the heads of the three branches of the armed forces with their staffs.

Leaders of the chancellery were Field Marshal Hermann Goering, chief of the air force; Col. Gen. Walter von Brauchitsch, commander-in-chief of the army; Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, commander-in-chief of the navy; and Col. Gen. Wilhelm Kettel, chief of the armed forces' high command.

It was assumed the Polish campaign and the future campaign on the western front were the main topics.

The high command this forenoon reported "unusually valuable reconnoitering results" from air excursions over France and the British Isles, "despite strong pursuit plane and anti-aircraft defense."

The communique reported five French pursuit planes were shot down in border patrol combat yesterday, but acknowledged no German losses.

More Publicity From Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Steps to keep the public better informed on Canada's war effort are going forward following the statement by Prime Minister Mackenzie King at a press conference yesterday that he planned to take up with his ministers suggestions put forward by Press Gallery correspondents.

The prime minister said he was anxious the public should be kept thoroughly informed of the nation's war effort and intended the machinery now in operation would be enlarged.

This has given rise to unofficial reports in Ottawa that Walter S. Thompson, now head of the censorship board and at present resting in Florida from his heavy duties, would have charge of the publicity organization on his return.

Some weeks ago provision was made to have a central bureau for disseminating news on war efforts. It was connected with the prime minister's office and headed by Walter Turnbull, one of Mr. King's secretaries, and George Hambleton, experienced news correspondent. A press liaison officer was named in each department to co-operate with the central office.

OLD AVENUES USED
The prime minister made it clear yesterday that the object was to supplement the news normally moving to the public through old-established departmental practices in which the minister and deputy minister were responsible for keeping the public informed of the departmental activities.

The idea of a large centralized information bureau which would supercede direct communication between the news writers and the departmental heads was not favored, Mr. King explained, although steps were taken to increase the effectiveness of the existing bureau.

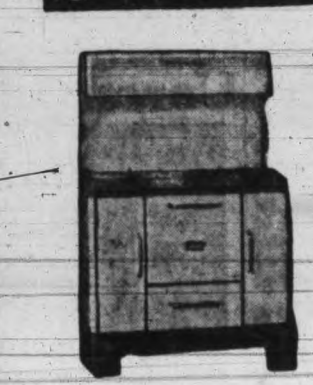

He intimated that not only the press, information, but radio and motion picture means of giving the public a better idea of what Canada's war effort will be, are involved.

The cabinet met today and it was said this was one of the subjects discussed.

CONSUMERS PARTY NAMES CANDIDATES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Every federal seat in the Dominion will be contested in the next general election by candidates of the newly-organized Consumers of Canada Party, according to T. H. Elliott, national leader. He states the party is being organized in all 245 constituencies. Candidates will be announced within the next few weeks.

Formerly president of the Manitoba division of the New Democracy movement led by Hon. W. H. Herridge, Mr. Elliott said the platform of the Consumers of Canada Party is not entirely new. The party advocates the platform of the Sound Money Economic System Association which Mr. Elliott said was devised a number of years ago by Stuart Harris of Winnipeg.

A manifesto issued by the party said that "it is the policy of the Consumers of Canada to remonetize silver so that a sound value can be placed behind every dollar in circulation in Canada."

The sound money plan advocated by the new political group is designed to speed up consumption to the required amount of production which will absorb all employables in Canada into permanent employment.

One of the methods the Consumers suggest for this purpose is the establishment of a national minimum wage of $25 a week.

20 Years for I.R.A. Man
MANCHESTER, Eng. (CP)—John McCabe, 22, was sentenced today to 20 years' imprisonment at hard labor after he had been found guilty of violating the Explosive Substance Act. When he was taken out of the court, McCabe struggled with his guards, shouting "Long live the Irish Republic!"

The idea of a large centralized information bureau which would supercede direct communication between the news writers and the departmental heads was not favored, Mr. King explained, although steps were taken to increase the effectiveness of the existing bureau.

He intimated that not only the press, information, but radio and motion picture means of giving the public a better idea of what Canada's war effort will be, are involved.

Britain May Defend Italy's Shipping

LONDON (CP)—The Daily Telegraph said today it was authoritatively informed Great Britain is considering "energetic action" to defend Italy's "shipping and national dignity."

"Neutral reactions to Germany's campaign of murder by mines on the seaways and the reprisals of the Allies are swiftly becoming clear," the newspaper said. "The real issue was again impressed upon all maritime nations yesterday by the sinking of the Italian steamship Flanona. There is to be no comment in the press until the government has taken its decision, but we are authoritatively told to expect that energetic action will be taken for defence of Italy's shipping and national dignity."

"Japan also has been stirred by the heavy loss wantonly inflicted on her. It must be gall and wormwood to Hitlerism that the countries which had the honor of being wooed by the Fuehrer should resent his piracy."

JERUSALEM (CP-Havas)—The Jewish Agency today announced plans to spend £1,500,000 ($6,675,000) on the industrial development of Palestine by building new plants.

6 YEARS OLD

(A true story)
One of our customers said recently, "Why don't you tell parents that the way to please their children is to let them open a savings account themselves? My little daughter aged six, came to her mother the other day, and said she wanted to go to the bank herself and open an account. Her mother, being wise, called up the Bank Manager, told him the story, and said that her small girl would be in to see him soon... Sure enough, in came the child, clutching a little purse. Signed her name four times (which she told her mother afterwards was foolish) and got her bank book. Did it all herself."

That young lady has the right idea. She regards the bank as HER Bank. You can make it yours.

Salvation Army Near Front Line

WITH THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCE IN FRANCE (CP-Reuters)—The first Salvation Army centre established for the B.E.F. is in a town behind the lines, off so-called "Czechoslovakia Square."

The British troops are evidently glad to make use of the facilities offered. The Reuter correspondent found in one room about a score of soldiers drinking tea at tables for four, each with a bright clean tablecloth. In the other room a half-dozen men, evidently from London, were exchanging witticisms in front of a cozy fire, while others were reading and writing letters.

A Salvation Army officer who helps run this retreat, spoke enthusiastically of the work being done for the comfort of British soldiers, and the plans being made for the extension of such work in the Salvation Army canteens throughout the British zone. A Salvation Army colonel has come from England to organize the development, using this centre as his base.

Three Englishwomen are at present looking after the cooking and other arrangements of this centre. One is the wife of the local Salvation Army adjutant, another is the wife of the English gardener-caretaker of the British military cemetery, and the third is her daughter.

From 400 to 550 British soldiers use the place every day. Most of the men come to write letters home. Some nights they have a sing-song. A piano is available, and they gather round it and sing. They can listen to BBC broadcasts here; can talk, play draughts or dominoes, or read. They can sustain themselves with the aid of bacon, eggs, potato chips, bread and butter with jam or marmalade, tea or cocoa. Two fried eggs and chip potatoes cost about sixpence.

Allies Destroy 8 Nazi Planes

FRANCHE-CONTE, France (AP)—A German warplane was shot down this morning by a French pursuit ship after it had circled over Franche-Comte. The plane fell in a field.

6 PLANES DOWN

PARIS (CP-Havas) — "The night was fairly calm on the front," said an official communiqué issued this forenoon. "There was artillery fire at various points."

"During the day of November 22 five German pursuit planes were brought down on our territory. In addition a German reconnaissance plane, attacked by our pursuit aircraft above Gravelines, fell in Belgian territory. We lost one pursuit plane."

The announcement of six German planes destroyed came after unofficial reports during the night had placed the German losses to the Allied air forces on the western front at eight planes.

R.A.F. BAGS PLANE

LONDON (CP)—A British air ministry communiqué issued in connection with an attempted flight over southeastern England said:

"Last night enemy aircraft approached the southeast coast. Anti-aircraft guns opened fire and Royal Air Force fighters were sent to intercept them. One enemy aircraft was shot down into the sea by anti-aircraft fire. A second aircraft was engaged and driven off by our fighters."

Villagers over a wide area heard the bark of anti-aircraft batteries and saw searchlights grope the sky while fighting planes gave chase to the enemy.

These latest reports of Allied successes brought the total number of Nazi planes shot down since the beginning of the war to at least 88.

British M.P.'s Take Brief Recess

By J. F. SANDERSON
LONDON (CP)—Tribute to the war effort of the Dominions was paid today in the speech from the throne read a prorogation of Parliament.

The exigencies of war necessitated all colorful ceremonies traditionally attached to prorogation being abandoned. The King did not attend in person, and the speech was read by the Lord Chancellor, Viscount Caldecote.

The new session of Parliament will start next Tuesday and there will be an adjournment over Christmas for two weeks or more.

"The issue is clear," the speech from the throne said of the war the Empire is waging against Germany. "With united will, my peoples here and overseas have dedicated themselves to the struggle. The spontaneous decision of my Dominions to participate in the conflict and the invaluable help which they are giving, and are about to give, to the common cause have been of the greatest encouragement to me."

"With the aid of our faithful French and Polish allies, we cannot doubt that our cause will prevail."

The war was being fought to preserve the birthright of liberty, said the speech.

"Despite the efforts of my government to preserve peace, Germany, in violation of solemn undertakings, wantonly invaded Poland."

"This new instance of German aggression and bad faith was a challenge which we could not have declined without dishonor to ourselves and without peril to the cause of freedom and the progress of mankind."

"We seek no material gain. Liberty and free institutions are our birthright which we, like our forefathers, are resolved to preserve."

The House of Commons was thanked for the "prompt and ungrudging" acceptance of heavy financial burdens which "has deeply impressed the world and demonstrated the unflinching determination of my people to make every sacrifice necessary for victory."

SECRET DISCUSSION

The new session of Parliament probably will include a secret sitting of Parliament, the first since the last war. It was intimated today the government will agree to the Labor Party's plea for a secret sitting to discuss supply and munitions.

The Labor Party wants assurance from the government that the industrial resources of the nation are being used for the best advantage in producing war supplies. There has been agitation before for secret sessions, but the government opposed them. It is understood now, however, it will accede to the wish of Clement Attlee, opposition leader.

RUMANIA GETS BRITISH PLANES

LONDON (CP)—Delivery of 36 British airplanes to Rumania has taken place, it was announced today.

"It is now possible to reveal that during the past few weeks 36 Blenheim bomber aircraft have been delivered by air from Great Britain to Rumania," an air ministry communiqué said. "All have arrived at Bucharest."

"About a month ago a senior Rumanian officer and 12 pilots arrived here to take delivery of their first consignment of Blenheims. Late in October a second batch of pilots arrived and flew a second consignment of 14 to Rumania. Ten days later the same pilots came back and flew home the last consignment. The Rumanian air force will form three squadrons of these Blenheims."

Britain last spring announced she had guaranteed Rumania against any infringement by Germany of her independence.

Horned Turkey Named

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Discovery of a horned turkey is announced by the Academy of Natural Sciences. The bird, found in a South American jungle and previously unknown, was named "Pauki Unicornis"—unicorn bird. The academy has received the skin of the bird from a member of the academy expedition.

$11,702 Short In Joint Campaign

Returns in the Community Chest-Red Cross campaign last night totaled $88,207.79, which is $11,702.21 short of the $100,000 objective.

The five divisions of canvassers are still working, especially those who have not yet reached their objectives.

The final returns of the joint campaign will be announced next Monday evening at a dinner to be held in Spencer's dining-room at 6.15 for all workers in the drive.

NAZIS SAY RADIOING TO BRITISH ENDED

BERLIN (AP)—"... Hearty greetings from your affectionate German opposition, German Gestapo."

With those words, according to a DNB (German news agency) account published today, were ended 21 days of wireless contacts in which German operatives claimed they obtained secrets from British agents by posing as anti-Hitler revolutionists.

The disclosure of the identity of the "revolutionists" was said by the agency to have been given yesterday, one day after the Gestapo had announced obtaining a confession from Georg Elser of Munich that he planted the Munich beer hall time bomb intended for Adolf Hitler. The announcement said Elser had British financial backing.

In the same connection, the Gestapo also had announced the arrest of two Britons identified as Capt. Richard Henry Stevens, 42, and Sigismund Payne Best, 54. Germans claimed Stevens headed the British European intelligence division and Best was his aide.

Yesterday the two men were accused of direct connection with the Munich bomb-plot which Hitler escaped by 11 minutes on November 8. Last night DNB distributed an account of 21 days of coded wireless contacts between the Gestapo and what it claimed were British agents.

Quoting "competent quarters," the news agency said the contacts were ended at 10.10 a.m. yesterday with the following message:

"In the long run, conversation with self-important foolish persons is tiresome. You will understand if we break off. Hearty greetings from your affectionate German opposition, German Gestapo."

Canada's War Plans

CANADIANS NATURALLY WANT TO know how the country is progressing with its war effort. They are asking about orders for materials, for new plants to manufacture airplanes, munitions, and the establishment of training centres from which 25,000 pilots are to be turned out every year the war lasts, and why something approaching high-pressure recruiting is not being conducted.

To much of the foregoing Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, submitted fairly lucid replies in an address he delivered last night at the 50th annual dinner of the University of Toronto Engineering Society. Answering the blanket statements that Canada is unprepared, that those in authority do not realize that Canada is at war, that nothing is being done, the government spokesman generalized in this way:

"I can assure you that there are those at Ottawa who know that Canada is at war. These include members of the government, top ranking civil servants and business and professional men who have been drafted from civil life on account of their peculiar fitness for some particular war effort. Lights burn in departmental offices throughout the night and any hour in the 24 is considered suitable for conferences and committee meetings."

Considering the national effort from certain specific standpoints, particularly one that had produced a feeling of unreality because conditions existing now differ so substantially from those more tangible and visible a quarter of a century ago, Mr. Howe reminded his hearers that there are no honorary colonels whipping up civilian enthusiasm, that those responsible were trying to progress in an orderly way, and that while there may be differences of opinion as to what Canada should or should not do about this or that, the federal government reaches all decisions after "the closest consultation with the British war cabinet." With this in mind he warned against the danger of pressure for changes of policy—based on lack of understanding of requirements of the present circumstances—that would be "as unwise as they would be unwelcome overseas." Mr. Howe says, for example, that the full division Canada has raised is "all that can be usefully employed at present." This does not mean that more men will not be required. The minister nevertheless implies that a predetermined program is being faithfully observed. And he cites lack of frantic endeavor and confusion as the best evidence that Canada was prepared for the transition from peace to war.

The majority of the Canadian people, of course, already are realizing that there are aspects of this war which furnish no analogy with the conflicts of the past. In its main essentials it is tragically new and novel. Many of the standards for its conduct can be established only after more or less secret experimentation. What holds good for us in this regard holds good for the enemy. Mr. Howe will not err, however, if he advises the government to give to the public as much information as commonsense permits.

Censorship Policy

ALTHOUGH NOT OFFICIALLY CONFIRMED, the report is current in Ottawa that Mr. Walter S. Thompson, now head of the censorship board and at present resting from his heavy duties in Florida, will take charge, when he returns, of a thoroughly re-organized publicity department which the Prime Minister is discussing with his cabinet colleagues today. Newspapermen throughout the Dominion would welcome such an appointment, for, under the competent direction such as that Mr. Thompson would be able to give—if not unduly interfered with—the general public, through the daily newspaper and by the use of other means, would obtain a fair picture of the Dominion's war effort. At his press conference yesterday, Mr. King said he was anxious that the public should be kept thoroughly informed of the nation's activities, and he has intimated that every method of dissemination of legitimate news is being considered.

It is an elementary fact that a censorship can become a valuable ally or a dangerous and irritating hampering agency. As the head of a bureau such as that evidently being considered by the government, Mr. Thompson would be in a position to utilize, in addition to his far-reaching working knowledge of the newspaper profession, the thorough understanding of the Canadian point of view which he has accumulated through the years in his capacity as journalistic publicity expert. Intelligence officers of various categories, of course, may suit the fighting services admirably in suppressing information which they are often totally incapable of classifying. Some of this probably would be better kept out of the newspapers. Much of it, however, has a news value, not only as news, but as information rightfully belonging to the people as a guide to their personal conduct and outlook in times of stress such as these. Than Mr. Thompson few are better qualified to pass a final verdict on matters of this kind.

It All Depends

ONE WIDELY-READ UNITED STATES commentator wants to know whether Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill was addressing the American people when he delivered his second international "war broadcast" last Sunday week. The allusion is to that part of the address which included this:

"If we are conquered, all will be enslaved and the United States will be left single-handed to guard the rights of man. . . The great English-speaking republic across the Atlantic Ocean makes no secret of its sympathies or its self-questioning and translates these sentiments into action of a character which anyone may judge for himself."

Says the commentator: "We didn't start this war, and we don't want any part of it. We got into one war, 22 years ago, and it will be a long time before we forget the expensive lessons we learned. The propaganda this time is just as smooth as it was then—making the world safe for democracy—but we aren't going to fall for it again. America is not interested in having thousands of its sons die each generation for European ideologies that are forgotten in the thick of battle. We are not going to be kidded into the belief that our real frontier lies along the Maginot Line."

Canadians understand full well why their neighbors want to steer clear of active participation in this or any other war. To a very large section of the public of the United States this is Europe's affair and none of their business. Nor should it be forgotten that what the government at Washington already has done with American neutrality, specifically the removal of the arms embargo, was done solely on its own initiative.

With all due respect to those who are determined the United States shall have no physical part in the conflict, however, we suggest he would be a wise man who would confidently predict that under no circumstances will that hope and wish be frustrated.

Froth From the Beer Hall

IF THE NAZI OLIGARCHY IS GETTING any satisfaction out of the arrest of Georg Elser, alleged perpetrator of the Munich beer hall explosion, and of trying to place some of the blame for the "incident" on British agents, nobody will quarrel. It was none other than Hermann Goering who found a scapegoat for the burning of the Reichstag early in 1933. Communism was blamed then; Dutchman Van der Lubbe the "agent." Hitler won his first election on that cry.

The recent Munich affair has all the earmarks of another diversion to take the minds of the German people off frustrated war aims. Secret Police Chief Himmler, however, is far from astute in his deductions when he suggests that Elser had had free access to the Buegerbraukeller for weeks before the mistimed explosion. For it is an established fact that the hall itself is constantly guarded and regularly searched before every Nazi meeting. Only careful protection for the person or persons engaged in "planting" the delicately-constructed time bomb could have produced the result so "intelligently" anticipated by the Fuehrer and his intimate associates.

Yarns trying to implicate British agents with the assassination of King Alexander of Yugoslavia, of poisoning King Faisal of Iraq, of causing the motor accident in which King Ghazi met his death, and of murdering Prime Minister Calinescu of Rumania typify the state of the propagandist mind of the Herr Doktor Goebbels. Meanwhile, the Gestapo is trying to find out something about Elser's antecedents—to add point to his arrest—just as it did in the case of subnormal Van der Lubbe.

It will soon be established in Berlin that Churchill was seen lurking on the fringes of the crowd the night of the attempted assassination of Hitler.

The British secret service, accused by the Germans of guilt in the Munich bombing, no doubt says, like the man asked to change a $20 bill, "Thanks for the compliment."

It is a peculiarity of the British character and temperament, and it also applies to Canada, as the Financial News reminds us, that unsound or unpatriotic causes, usually are destroyed rather than helped by free speech.

Going Too Far

From Ottawa Journal

Certain weekly publications that come out of Toronto have been in the habit of featuring the sort of police court case which the daily newspapers do not report in any detail. To stop their source of obscene material Mr. Conant, the Attorney-General of Ontario, has ordered that henceforth "the press and public" will be excluded "from magistrates' court trials involving indecent acts, bestiality and immorality."

That right of the press is to be abolished, according to Mr. Conant, because it has been abused by some publications — "scandal sheets," he calls them—which cannot by any stretch of imagination be classed as newspapers. We think he goes too far. It is not that we fear injustice may be done in the absence of the reporters and their implied power of publicity, but there is an important principle involved. The rights of the public are linked with the rights of the press, and the right of access to the courts is not the least of those principles on which working democracy is founded.

It ought to be possible to suppress publications that offend against decency.

Across The Bay

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

KNITTER

YOU REMEMBER in "The Tale of Two Cities" how Madame LaFarge used to sit in her wine shop and knit into a vast shawl the names of the aristocrats who were to be guillotined when the Revolution came. Yesterday in the galleries of this Legislature a lady sat knitting, perhaps with more peaceful ends in view, perhaps not. Anyway, the House took no chances. An attendant was dispatched to tell the lady that she couldn't do anything useful in these premises.

The House had decided to do all the knitting. It stuck to its own most of the day and night, with such remarkable results that there was talk of the job being done, the unraveled sleeve of British Columbia business being knit up, by the middle of next week.

It was rapid knitting but mighty poor debate. The Conservative opposition has carried its policy of co-operation and appeasement so far, indeed, that it hardly debated any issue all day and the C.C.F. found most of its arguments out of order, which always helps the knitting along by dropping stitches here and there.

The spectacle at the afternoon session was rather distressing to those who believe in democracy. An hour was taken up, and quite properly, talking about the problems of projectionists in motion picture theatres. But important as these persons may be, they are not as numerous as the housewives, the consumers, the whole people of British Columbia. Yet on legislation affecting every one of them, the House paused hardly five minutes.

The legislation affecting them is called for short the Loss Leader Bill. It extends to various new articles the principle that you must not sell anything below cost to attract customers with bargains to your more expensive merchandise.

DEPARTURE

NOW THIS IS A VITAL departure in the economies of British Columbia, even if the original bill is two years old. It strikes at the core of our present economic system, at the key mechanism which is supposed to make it work—namely, competition. Whether it is a wise departure or not is not for this department to say. But everybody, advocates and opponents of the scheme alike, would agree that it is important, that it may lead to strange consequences, that a law-making body should not seek to alter our major economic processes without thought; without at least reading the proposed alterations.

Well, six sections of the bill were passed without being read. The seventh and eighth sections were read and a long amendment inserted, with no evidence that the House appreciated the significance of any of it. When a few members started, half-heartedly, to discuss the value of this kind of legislation, Chairman Carson ruled them out of order. He said they could only discuss particular sections and should have raised objections to the general principle when the bill was at second-reading stage a few days ago.

At second-reading stage nobody had appeared interested. Now, as Mr. Telford found, it was too late. Sneaking in behind the chairman's ruling, Mr. Telford managed to say nobody was doing anything to protect the consumer. Mr. Anscomb, for the Conservatives, said he didn't like leaving the enforcement of the law to the Retail Merchants' Association. Mr. Wismer said this was a matter of convenient procedure and the courts were always open to anyone to lay a complaint under the law. The C.C.F. said nothing.

So the whole thing, affecting every family in this province for good or ill, slid by without the least exploration. Thus we march, with banners proclaiming that we move in the opposite direction, towards the planned economy that the C.C.F. advocates, that the two other parties abhor. Every day the speed of march increases but nobody knows where we are going. The C.C.F. is happy because it thinks it knows, but we may well turn up somebody else's alley some night in the dark.

MOVIES

THE FIGHT OVER the movie projectionists produced the heroic spectacle of Mr. LeBourdais fighting alone like Horatius at the Bridge against a whole House determined to put two projectionists into every large theatre. It was a civil war within the Liberal Party with Mr. Bryan leading the majority. Waving his hands, scowling in agony of thought Mr. LeBourdais fought step by step, with points of order, appeals from the chair and finally with long argument, but it was no use. After days of the most intensive lobbying for and against the House has seen this year, the thing was settled long in advance, and when Mr. Wismer talked as to a jury in favor of the projectionists, Mr. LeBourdais found himself alone.

SAD STORY

THE EVENING WAS made agreeable by a lecture from Mr. Uphill on the true inwardness of education. Mr. Uphill, influenced by his own success in life, rose up to tell another authority on education, Dr. Weir, that our school system should be made more practical. Children should be guided into the sphere for which nature had fitted them. For example, if a child made a habit of sneaking downstairs at midnight and raiding the ice box it should be trained immediately for politics. Mr. Anscomb insisted that in politics nowadays there is never anything left in the ice box.

Mr. Uphill, reversing his reasoning, argued that our girls have been taught too much about life. Why, he said, he had seen out driving with a girl in Esquimalt last Sunday and she had become so fresh with him that he had been compelled to walk all the

This Totalitarian War Really Ending All War

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

IT HAS BEEN the custom to say that this war will be the end of civilization, so far as Europe is concerned. This view of affairs seems to me to be too pessimistic. Symptoms of decay are accompanied by symptoms of regeneration.

Certainly, nothing after this war will be the same as it was before. It has already challenged the political, economic and social structures of all belligerents. It is sweeping away certain forms of life and many illusions. But not all changes are for the worse.

THE FIRST and most impressive thing about this war and the thing that furnishes the greatest cause for optimism is that no one fights it. For five years this war has hung over the heads of mankind as the most horrifying threat in history. Poets and publicists have allowed their imaginations to play with the picture of the destruction wrought by the "total" war, waged between major powers. The apportion has been approaching, and it has been systematically prepared for by the totalitarian countries, particularly by Germany.

Germany has the most rationalized and efficient industrial plant in Europe, the most hardworking and disciplined population, and a long tradition of militarism as the very basis of the existence of the state. It also was a nation with a grievance, and a peculiarly boundless kind of imagination.

And it was the first country systematically to prepare for the totalitarian war. It made a totalitarian political system, a totalitarian economic and social system, and it organized the whole for the clear and openly avowed objective of the totalitarian war.

TOTALITARIAN WAR means, of course, a war waged with the whole resources of a nation; waged with the organized collaboration of every man, woman and child; waged with the totality of industry, technology and science; waged with and by a trade policy; waged on no single front but on all fronts—on land, on sea and in the air, against civilians, including women and children, against industrial centres, docks, communications.

In the last few years we have had samples of this kind of warfare, notably in Spain. People have called the Spanish war a test of modern warfare, the totalitarian war in miniature. Such, also, was the German lightning campaign against Poland.

BUT NEARLY three months have elapsed since the British Commonwealth, France and Germany became engaged in war, and the great holocaust does not begin. Why not? It would seem as though science, technology and totalitarianism itself might accomplish what no solemnly exchanged pacts and pledges and peace movements could bring about.

Totalitarian war is, perhaps, the reductio ad absurdum of war. Perhaps it cannot be waged between major nations at all, but only by an overwhelmingly strong nation against a weak and isolated one. There is probably no nation in the world strong enough to wage a totalitarian war against its approximate equal.

In the last war the engines of way home. At this sad tale of Mr. Uphill's victory over temptation the heartless House laughed for two minutes flat.

More serious counsel came from Mr. Eyres, who wanted our children taught about democracy, and when Dr. Weir said this was being done already he got unexpected support from Mrs. Steeves, who declared that the average high school pupil knew more about democracy than the average member of this House. And so to bed.

death were not nearly so perfected as they are in this one. Yet 1,000,000 men fell before Verdun. How many would have to be sacrificed to take the German Westwall or the Maginot Line, which are incomparably stronger than any fortifications that existed in 1914? The implements with which men wage war today are enormously more efficient, but they are also enormously more costly. The weapons shoot faster, but they also shoot away, per second, an enormously larger amount of metal. The possibilities of destroying the enemy's resources are greater, but the process of destroying them would drain to the utmost the resources of the destroyer.

NO NATION can afford the totalitarian war! It cannot afford the men. Too many millions have already been slaughtered in this generation.

It cannot afford the material. No nation, by money or barter, or by any conceivable shenanigan can accumulate enough essential material to keep a totalitarian war going for months or possibly years.

It cannot afford the risk. Waging a "total" war is like putting all your chips on one number on the roulette wheel. If that number does not turn up, your fortune is lost. The totalitarian war, once begun, has got to be won, and won quickly. Otherwise, one has hurled an entire nation, every person and everything in it, into the oubliette.

AND THE totalitarian war cannot be isolated. One cannot carry it into the enemy's terrain, and keep it there. Once it starts—in the air, over London or Paris, or over the industrial areas of northern France—it will continue inevitably over Berlin and Munich and the industrial areas of western Germany. Given an approximately equal number of bombing planes on both sides, and war by wholesale bombing is almost certain not to occur at all. Germany could afford to bomb Warsaw because she put the inferior Polish air force out of commission at the very outset of the war.

It is not, therefore, humanitarianism that restrains the belligerents. It is the simplest and most primitive instincts of self-preservation. Having brought the totalitarian war to the very gates, it is discovered that it is too dangerous to wage! Great nations dare not make the war for which they have prepared!

NOW THIS MAY really mean the beginning of the end of war. For the only thing that would ever make the human race beat its swords into ploughshares and its spears into pruning hooks would be the realization that the sword in one's own hand is as dangerous as the sword in the enemy's.

The unwillingness really to make war, after it is declared and has been begun, is the first reason for optimism. But there are others, and in a dark moment it might be well to look at them in some succeeding column.

The unwillingness really to make war, after it is declared and has been begun, is the first reason for optimism. But there are others, and in a dark moment it might be well to look at them in some succeeding column.

Anti-loss Leader Bill Completed

Over the protest of Mayor J. Lyle Telford of Vancouver that it gives the consumer absolutely no protection, the anti-loss leader bill, known technically as the Food Products Minimum Loss Act, went through committee in the Legislature yesterday.

Dr. Telford was shut off from any further discussion on the bill after he had called it a wrong principle and declared himself absolutely opposed. He was called to order for attempting to discuss the principle of the bill after it had been given second reading.

Three amendments to the original bill were written in by Mrs. Paul Smith, sponsor of the measure. Two were of a minor nature and the other provided that when a retailer sells meat at more than 25 per cent below the prevailing retail rate in a district it shall be prima facie evidence that he is selling at less than 5 per cent above cost. The bill generally prevents retailers from selling any groceries at less than 5 per cent above cost.

The question of enforcement was raised and L. H. Eyres, Conservative, Chilliwack, asked whether the government or the Retail Merchants' Association would see that it was carried out.

Attorney-General Wismer announced that the retail merchants had undertaken the responsibility of checking up on violations. There would be no cost to the government.

In course of the discussion Mrs. D. G. Steeves, C.C.F., North Vancouver, asked why something was not done to curb the practice of wholesalers selling direct at wholesale prices in competition with retailers.

Mrs. Smith said this proposal had been studied, but there was delay in compiling a list of the firms that would be exempt. The Retail Merchants' Association had undertaken to do this and a law will be brought down next year. Dr. Telford protested against a firm that advertised bread at below cost and asked why they had not been checked.

Herbert Anscomb, Conservative, Victoria, declared it was a bad principle to have any organization or corporation such as the Retail Merchants' Association handling the administration of an act and laying prosecutions. Mr. Wismer insisted, however, that the government could not set up inspectors for every one of the thousands of laws on the statute books.

Cost of Education Government Charge

Education was a national obligation and not the responsibility of the municipalities, H. G. T. Perry, Liberal, Fort George, said in the Legislature last night when urging the government to take over the costs of current education, as advocated in the Liberal platform.

"Education should not be left to the wealth or poverty of municipalities," he said. "We, as legislators should bear in mind that it is our responsibility to give relief to the municipalities in this regard. If the municipalities were relieved of education costs they would be placed on a permanently sound foundation. As the taxing powers of municipalities are limited, so should their responsibilities be limited."

Mrs. D. G. Steeves, C.C.F., North Vancouver, said salaries of rural and city school teachers should be more equalized. It was not fair to send a teacher to a small, country school, where the task was difficult and expect him or her to work for far less than a city teacher. It was not fair to the children, either, she said, when they were continually up against inexperienced teachers.

The House passed salary grants to teachers of $2,370,000. Replying to E. E. Winch, C.C.F., Burnaby, Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, said the government had under advisement an addition to the school for deaf and blind children in Vancouver. He admitted the dormitories were congested, but said the school was one of the most efficient in North America. Mr. Winch said the dormitories were so crowded the children had to crawl over each other's beds.

Dr. Weir said teachers had been told not to order their children to buy reference books. Text-books were lower in this province than anywhere else in Canada, with the exception of the Maritimes, he said.

HOLIDAY MEASURES ARGUED IN HOUSE

The Legislature was asked by Premier Pattullo yesterday to rule out of order a bill sponsored by Mrs. D. G. Steeves, C.C.F., North Vancouver, which would have ordered that all workers be guaranteed two weeks annual holiday with pay.

Decision on the point was reserved by the Speaker. The Premier said such a measure would impose an indirect levy on industry and therefore was not within the competence of a private member to introduce.

Mrs. Steeves said if that were the case many bills brought forward by private members were out of order, and Harold Winch, C.C.F. leader, declared that the bill would not necessarily mean extra costs to industry since workers might take their holidays in slack periods when no extra help would be required.

Mr. Winch also sponsored, on second reading, a bill which would give retail store workers their regular Wednesday or Thursday half-day holidays even when there was a statutory holiday in the week. At present the usual half-day is canceled at such a time. He argued that industrial and office workers who get a Saturday half-day always get this time off, regardless of there being another holiday in the week. Retail workers, therefore, were discriminated against. Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, adjourned debate on the measure.

Land Settlement Loans Written Down

Upwards of $171,000 of interest charges owing on Land Settlement Board agreements have been written off as a result of adjustments carried out since a revision scheme was approved by the Legislature last year. Louis LeBourdais, Liberal, Cariboo, said in the House last night.

Reviewing an interim report of the board, he said $163,063 had been reduced in charges on farmers through the simplifying of interest. In addition credits amounting to over $8,200 had been allowed on improvements made to settlement lands. Other agreements are in the process of settlement.

Young Vancouver Meets Legislators

Vancouver Liberal members of the Provincial Legislature last night were hosts to member of the Junior Board of Trade of Vancouver at a dinner in the Empress Hotel, at which Hon. G. S. Wismer, Attorney-General, presided.

The Vancouver representatives entertaining the visitors were: Mr. Wismer, Hon. G. M. Weir, provincial secretary; Howard Forester and Mrs. Paul Smith. Also present were Premier Pattullo, Capt. C. S. Leary, Liberal whip; Louis LeBourdais, M.P.P., and executive members of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A welcome on behalf of the government was extended by Premier Pattullo, who said the present administration had done more than enough for Vancouver to make up for that city's lost revenues, taken away during the depression.

Dr. Weir dealt with the grants which the province made to Vancouver in aid of education, social welfare and health and pointed out the government contributed 35 per cent of education costs throughout the whole province which was more than double what was contributed by other Canadian provincial governments, except Prince Edward Island. Earl Bennett, president of the junior board, spoke of the value of the annual trips which the organization sponsored to Victoria as offering opportunity for young business men to see how the country was run. "Cam" McLean, first vice-president, also spoke.

Other speakers included Mr. L. Bourdais and Tom Sturgess, president of the junior chamber in Victoria, who welcomed the visitors on behalf of his organization and introduced to the gathering the following executive members of the junior chamber: Leslie Osborne, Peter Bell, W. C. Mearns, Logan Mayhew, Tom Little and Conway Parrott.

Teach Democracy In Schools, Plea

A Conservative plea that children in British Columbia schools be taught the real meaning of democracy was met in the Legislature last night with the reply that they are.

L. H. Eyres, Chilliwack, Conservative, said most children had to pick up their ideas of democracy on the street corners.

"We are competing with systems in which controlled school systems teach the children only what the state thinks they should know and tells them how efficient their own system is," he said. "We ought to teach our children from the beginning the advantages of democracy over Fascism, Nazism and the other isms. I don't know exactly how it should be done but surely a formula could be worked out."

Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, said a recent bulletin to teachers emphasized that very point and in social studies B.C. was far ahead of other provinces in Canada.

Mrs. D. G. Steeves, C.C.F., North Vancouver, said she thought most high school students had a better idea of democracy than most members of the Legislature.

EVERY DOLLAR YOU GIVE WILL HELP SAVE LIVES, RELIEVE SUFFERING

The RED CROSS needs your help—Now!

DURING THE LAST WAR, the Canadian Red Cross raised in Canada 9 millions of dollars for the benefit of Canadian soldiers. The Canadian Red Cross contributed an additional 6 million dollars to the British Red Cross to assist in its great work. The Canadian Red Cross also sent to the front 347,000 bales of goods conservatively valued at 20 million dollars. The total contributions of the Canadian Red Cross in the last war amounted to approximately 35 millions in cash and goods.

Now the Canadian Red Cross has again swung into action. Faced with definite tasks which had to be undertaken at once, the Canadian Red Cross has already pledged itself to carry out the following undertakings:

1. To build and equip a 300-bed hospital for Canadian soldiers at Tawfaw, England. This is to be called Canadian Red Cross Hospital Number One. The cost of this undertaking is conservatively estimated at $250,000
2. To purchase wool, cloth and all types of materials for the immediate needs of Red Cross branches throughout the Dominion. For this purpose, the Canadian Red Cross has already borrowed from Canadian banks and has expended, or appropriated for immediate expenditure $408,000

3. To furnish all branches of the Red Cross in Canada with the wool and other materials they need for the next eight months (conservatively estimated at $150,000 a month) $1,200,000

4. To carry on the normal work of the Red Cross in Canada, to maintain the Red Cross outpost hospitals and nursing stations, to carry on the work of the Red Cross in frontier districts. During the last two years the cost of this work was $1,200,000. For the coming year the Red Cross will endeavour to keep the cost of this effort down to $950,000

These Four Items Total $2,808,000

Canadians are being asked to contribute $3,000,000 in this drive, which will leave but a small margin to provide for unexpected emergencies, to assist the allied Red Cross Societies with goods and money, and for other needs which are almost sure to arise.

'Save the Kilt' Scots' War Cry

Loyal Scots of Victoria are determined to fight to the last thread any move to abolish the kilt from Scottish regiments.

Last night a meeting, organized by the Vancouver Island Pipers' Society, at which every Scottish organization of the city was represented, appointed a strong committee to carry on a campaign to prevent banishing the traditional Highland dress.

The committee will communicate with other Scottish organizations of the Dominion to determine their course of action, after which it will carry its protest to federal and military authorities at Ottawa.

The tradition which lay behind the kilt, its value in recruiting and the spirit which it encouraged in a regiment, were emphasized by those who spoke in favor of it. They claimed statements it was unsuitable under certain conditions of warfare were without foundation.

The meeting agreed nothing should be overlooked in preventing the change. The British Empire was built on tradition and the best of Scottish traditions was represented by the kilt, they said.

Knights Columbus Planning War Huts

Councils of the Knights of Columbus in Canada are preparing a campaign to raise $200,000 to operate the Knights of Columbus Canadian Army Huts as a registered auxiliary service under the War Charities Act. The director of auxiliary services at Ottawa has officially recognized the Knights as an organization to assist the Catholic chaplain services, general soldier welfare work, including huts, where required.

The dates set for this campaign are from December 3 to 11 and were so set as not to interfere with the Red Cross drive.

In order to eliminate all unnecessary expense the Knights of Columbus set up a small central committee to handle their affairs. It is headed by Lieut.-Col. Dr. Claude Brown of London, Ont., supreme director of the order, Philip Phelan of Ottawa, state deputy of Ontario, is secretary and the other two members are Supreme Director Francis Fau-teaux and State Deputy Ludger Faguy, both of Montreal. State Deputy F. Walter Slade of Kimberley is a member of the board of directors to represent British Columbia and has complete charge of the campaign as far as this province is concerned.

LONDON — Messages from North Holland state that unusual activity prevails at Emden, says a dispatch from the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at The Hague. The telegram continues: "Fishermen who daily cruise near the German fleet say that the German fleet is preparing for decisive action in the North Sea. Prince Henry of Prussia was at Emden yesterday for an inspection of the torpedo and submarine craft."

PARIS — The official French bulletin given out in Paris this afternoon says that yesterday Ypres was subjected to a violent artillery fire and that many of its important buildings were consumed by flames.

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man — Five alien prisoners were killed and 12 others were seriously wounded in a riot Thursday at the detention camp here. The riot started when some of the prisoners attempted to escape.

LONDON — The Copenhagen correspondent of the Daily Mail says he learns from Berlin that placards are posted nightly in the suburbs of the German capital, demanding peace and containing threats. The police tear the posters down, but they always appear the next night, and the authorities do not seem anxious to catch the offenders for fear of drawing further attention to the peace agitation.

Organization of Clerks Discussed

Benefits which accrue from organization were outlined to about 50 retail clerks representing four local stores at a meeting this week of the Victoria Retail Clerks' Union, which is affiliated with the Trades and Labor Council.

C. J. Wright acted as chairman and with H. P. Gray, secretary-treasurer, he outlined to the gathering just what the organization meant to the retail employees. Mr. Gray said the union had been successful in securing some improved working conditions for its members.

Mr. Wright, after outlining the aims of the union, noted it was also of assistance to the employer since it advocated thorough efficiency in all branches of its membership.

Several of those attending were given application forms for membership.

Smallpox has been increasing in the United States—in 1934, a little over 5,000 cases; in 1938, 15,000.

Old-age Pension Rules Discussed

Samuel Guthrie, C.C.F., Cowichan-Newcastle, got into heated argument with Premier Pattullo and two cabinet ministers in the Legislature yesterday when he asked to see the names of all those engaged in the Provincial Secretary's department in the administration of welfare and their respective salaries.

Mr. Guthrie said a welfare worker in his constituency exceeded her authority in dealing with an old age pensioner and endeavored to have the old lady assign her property to the old age pension board.

Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, promised Mr. Guthrie the name of the worker in question and her salary, but asked him not to put his hard-worked staff at the time of the session to the task of looking up records of every welfare worker in the province.

Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, said the old age pension board had no authority to accept a property assignment from an old age pensioner.

"That is a mistaken idea that is abroad in this province," the minister said. "It is true that if the old age pensioner, at his or her death will the property to a son or daughter, the board has a claim, assuming the son or daughter had not been reasonably fair to the pensioner."

Premier Pattullo said the C.C.F. member's resolution was out of order. The Speaker said it was out of order.

"This is a pretty slick move and typical of the methods used in this House," Mr. Guthrie said. The Speaker ordered him to take his seat. Mr. Guthrie said he would do so but would be heard from again.

Movie Projectionists Get New Order

Moving picture projectionists won the latest round of their long-standing feud with theatre owners over the number of men required for duty in projection rooms when the Legislature yesterday passed an amendment to the Fire Marshal's Act after nearly an hour's debate.

In effect the amendment specifies that theatres operating less than 40 hours a week and having less than 450 seats need employ only one man. In others two men are required. But in the smaller theatres the fire marshal can order the employment of two men if he thinks safety conditions permit.

This change will supersede a recent government order which permitted the employment of only one man in any theatre open to the public less than 40 hours a week.

Louis LeBourdais, Liberal, Cariboo, staged a running one-man fight against the amendment, which was sponsored by J. M. Bryan, Liberal, Mackenzie, who was warmly backed by Attorney-General Wismer.

Mr. LeBourdais claimed the amendment penalized country theatre owners unfairly. With modern equipment only one projectionist was required, he argued.

Mr. Bryan and Mr. Wismer, supported by several other speakers, claimed the jobs of 108 men would eventually be affected if the present order stood and insisted the two-man provision was needed for safety's sake.

Under the existing order only 18 of the province's 128 theatres would have to employ two men. Mr. Wismer said. Under the amendment 63 of the total would be reduced to one man, with the chance for the fire marshal to order two if he thought it necessary.

The minister paid tribute to the university. He said he doubted if there was a university in Canada that had made the progress in 21 years made by the U.B.C.—He said there was not a university in North America that had a more honorable history, and that McGill welcomed U.B.C. graduates for research work more than any other graduates.

Want Mt. Douglas Road Surfaced

Hard surfacing of the new scenic road over Mount Douglas was proposed by the Victoria and Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee yesterday at a meeting in the City Hall.

The committee recommends an allocation of $1,000 for the job providing the offer of a prominent citizen to match this amount for the completion of the project still stood.

Theft of young coniferous trees in Mount Douglas Park will be guarded against late in December when guards will be stationed there by the committee. Thanks of the committee went to Alderman John Worthington and N. W. Whittaker, K.C., M.P.P., for their work in connection with the park.

SAYS FREE SPEECH STOPPED AT U.B.C.

The right of students at the University of British Columbia to indulge in free and unbridled discussion on any topic was debated in the Legislature last night when Department of Education estimates were being passed.

Colin Cameron, C.C.F., Comox, said he had been told, verbally and by letter, that there was a tendency on the part of university authorities to stifle discussion on unorthodox and "shall I say subversive" ideas. He maintained the main purpose of the university was to develop a critical faculty of mind.

"If you are going to permit the university authorities, directly or indirectly, to erect intellectual keep-off-the-grass signs you are going to destroy the whole purpose of the institution," he said. "Young people should be given the opportunity to consider and discuss all ideas, no matter how horrifying and unorthodox they may seem to some people."

Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, said it was the purpose of the government to stay away from the internal administration of the university, which was run by a board of governors and a senate, but when he was on the faculty freedom of speech, to reasonable limits, was certainly permitted.

"Indeed we encouraged the freest kind of discussion, we allowed no treason or profanity, of course, but every kind of ology was discussed. It is not the function, however, of the university to indulge in propaganda—to make a good citizen it is not necessary to make a good Liberal or Conservative or C.C.F.er."

The minister paid tribute to the university. He said he doubted if there was a university in Canada that had made the progress in 21 years made by the U.B.C.—He said there was not a university in North America that had a more honorable history, and that McGill welcomed U.B.C. graduates for research work more than any other graduates.

FOREST PLANTING PLANS WIDENED

Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, announced last night in the Legislature that the forest branch's reforestation scheme is being steadily expanded so that by 1941 it will be ready to plant 6,000,000 fir trees on logged-over lands.

The minister said this spring 956,000 trees were planted on 1,064 acres. By next spring the branch will be ready to plant 1,200,000 trees and in 1941 will step this up to 6,000,000.

Development of the new Campbell River nursery has been a big step forward in enlarging the reforestation plan, the minister said. Capacity of the new nursery has been a big step forward in enlarging the reforestation plan. Capacity of the new nursery has been stepped up to production of 4,000,000 trees annually, which adds to the 7,000,000 trees that can be produced at Green Timber Nursery on the mainland.

The minister said that in the forest branch's experiments to date, 959,000 trees have been planted on 2,386 acres.

TO SEEK FIFTH TERM AS REEVE

Reeve Alex Lockley announced today that he will seek his fifth consecutive term as head of the Esquimalt Municipal Council at the elections on December 16.

There is a possibility that he may be returned by acclamation. Two of the retiring councillors will seek re-election. Thomas Hatfield said that he had every intention of running and R. G. Humphreys felt that it was a good policy to have a member of the militia on the council and would therefore seek return to office. R. G. Guillemaud, the third retiring councillor, was undecided as to whether he would seek re-election.

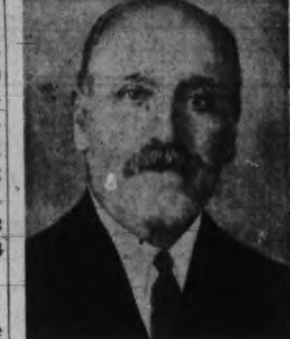

Two of the retiring members of the school board were undecided this morning as to whether they would seek a return to office. They were the chairman, Major A. A. Warder, and Reeve Lockley.

J. P. A. Christensen will not contest his seat on the board again. He felt that his duties as a councillor kept him busy. Charles H. Smith, elected to a one-year term in a by-election on the police commission, has not decided whether he will seek re-election. His seat will be the only vacancy on the commission.

MOSBY'S TONIC SPLENDID SAYS VANCOUVER CITIZEN RHEUMATIC PAIN RELIEVED

Mr. Robert Horner of East 60th Street Had Such Violent Pains He Couldn't Sleep—Bowels Irregular—Stomach Sour and Gassy—He now S—s: "My Suffering Is Relieved. Mosby's Tonic Deserves Anybody's Praise."

MR. ROBERT HORNER, a Resident of Vancouver 22 Years, Who Says: "MOSBY'S TONIC Was What I Needed. It is the Finest Thing of the Kind I EVER HEARD OF. I Gladly Endorse It."

Day after day, crowds continue to flock to The Cunningham Drug Store, Fort and Douglas Streets, where this New, Scientific Formula, known as MOSBY'S TONIC, is being introduced and explained to the public of this city and vicinity.

This Splendid Mixture of Roots and Herbs and Other Proven Medicinal Agents has already helped THOUSANDS (this is literally true!) in this city, although it has been known here only a short time. And some of the best-known residents of Victoria and vicinity are coming forward daily with Sincere Statements, describing what Mosby's Tonic did for them and urging others who suffer in the same way to get this New Compound and take it. For instance, just a few days ago, Mr. Robert Horner of 2155 East 60th St. Vancouver, B.C., made the following statement. Mr. Horner has been a resident here 22 years. He is acquainted with hundreds of local people and we are PROUD to publish his statement below:

Rheumatic Pains Kept Him Awake Nights

"If anybody in this world ever had what you call REAL rheumatic pains, then I know I am that very person, for I suffered so badly at times that I could hardly endure it," said Mr. Horner. "These rheumatic pains were so violent at times that my feet and legs just seemed to be on fire. At nights I would lie in bed and suffer for hours. I couldn't touch one foot to the other, and even the bed clothing felt heavy on my legs. Sometimes when I got up in the mornings I could hardly straighten up to walk. The pains felt like they were ALL OVER ME. I believe most of this rheumatic trouble was caused by impurities in my system, due to constipation. My bowels were almost always constipated and I couldn't find anything to regulate them properly. My stomach was so sour and gassy that I had to be very careful what I ate. Also had sharp pains from gas

Acts on Bowels, Stomach, Liver and Kidneys

MOSBY'S TONIC accomplishes several things within the human body at the same time. That is because it contains 20 ingredients, including 15 Roots and Herbs. It cleanses the bowels and clears gas and bloating from the stomach. It enlivens the liver, cleans old bile from system and relieves biliousness and sick headache. It invigorates the kidney action, thus stopping backache. Weak, wornout people soon feel like different men and women.

Only Costs Few Cents a Day to Take It

Another thing—due to the immense volume which it sells, the price of Mosby's Tonic is reasonable. You can actually take this New Formula with its many Herbs and Other Splendid Ingredients, for just a few cents per day. So don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic—NOW—and start taking it. (Adv.)

Rush in Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—Textile factories in Hamilton, Stratford and London, Ont., are working full time, and in some cases double shifts are operating to turn out war orders, according to a report issued by Hon. Norman Hipel, Ontario Minister of Labor. At Belleville all laid-off employees of the Canadian National Railways have been called back. Many railway workers at Hamilton have been called back. Brantford reports 300 fewer on relief than at this time last year.

I.O.D.E. Bridge Tea
Delightful Party

Mrs. G. C. Jones Hostess
 Yesterday for Mary Croft Chapter

Marked by perfect arrangements in all its details, the bridge party held at the home of Capt. and Mrs. G. C. Jones, Rockland Avenue, yesterday afternoon was a social and financial success. With 23 tables of play arranged in the house and 13 tables in progress at the homes of other hostesses, the funds of the Mary Croft Esquimalt Chapter I.O.D.E., which sponsored the affair, netted the sum of $90.

The hostess was assisted in receiving by Mrs. J. T. Jones, the regent, and Mrs. C. T. Beard, who convened the party.

The reception rooms were attractive with fall flowers, and in the dining-room, where Mrs. E. V. Finland presided, the beautifully-appointed table was set with a large silver bowl of rose antirrhinum and fern. Coffee was served in the hall. Mrs. J. Sutherland Brown and Mrs. G. C. Jones presiding at the table, which was centred with a silver bowl of pale pink carnations.

Corsage-bouquets of roses, the gift of the chapter executive, were worn by Mrs. G. C. Jones, Mrs. Beard and Mrs. J. T. Jones. Prizewinners were: Mrs. M. M. Connelly, Mrs. H. Forrester, Mrs. C. R. Bull and Mrs. C. Shoppe (Shanghai).

Knitters Stopped
In Public Gallery

Two of Victoria's prettiest debutantes decided yesterday they would take a practical interest in British Columbia's Legislature, and try and learn something about the inner workings of politics and government.

So over they went to the Parliament Buildings and found seats in the front-row of the ladies' gallery. Industrious they took out their knitting—both were making socks for soldiers—and clicked away with their needles.

But an attendant spied them and advised them knitting was not allowed in the galleries.

Indignantly and unable to understand, they put away their knitting and one dispatched a note to a friend in the House. Why, she asked, could they not knit when the members talked, ate apples, read newspapers and wrote letters. Her question was not answered.

Unable to continue their work the debutantes lost interest in the business of government and soon left.

It appears a Mr. Speaker in the past, becoming dizzy with so many knitting ladies in the gallery opposite him forbade the practice, and the unofficial but firm rule has been strictly enforced ever since.

Church Social On Anniversary

St. Aidan's United Church, Mt. Tolmie, celebrated its 45th anniversary with a social in the church hall on Monday evening. There were 200 members and friends present, and each brought a cup and saucer as a birthday gift. The program under the convener of the "human organ" conducted by Mrs. Percy Boorman, consisted of a "human organ" conducted by Mrs. Griffiths, a Ladies' Aid meeting of 1894, by members of the Friendly Group, in old-fashioned costume, with Mr. Sturgeon as narrator, and two numbers by the choir, under the leadership of Mr. Frank Jennings.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING
GOODBYE!

Pepples Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, doped, tired and peeples.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like heading up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Biggin, 2511 Cranmore Road, announce the engagement of their elder daughter, Miriam Sargent, to Mr. Adolfo E. Samudio, son of Mrs. R. E. Samudio and the late Mr. Samudio, Panama City, where the wedding will take place on December 20. After the wedding, the bride and groom will make their home at Kingston, Jamaica, where Mr. Samudio is Consul-General for Panama.

Social and Personal

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber

entertained at dinner at Government House last evening in honor of Major-General and Mrs. F. S. G. Piggott of Tokyo, Capt. F. H. Taylor, R.N., and Capt. E. Longley-Cook, R.N., who are visitors in the city.

Major-General Piggott, who is a military attaché at the British Embassy in Tokyo, and Mrs. Piggott have been spending a few days with Capt. and Mrs. W. Hobart Molson, Rockland Avenue, before leaving for England.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Ellis of Ottawa are spending a few weeks in Victoria, and are in residence at the Cathay Apartment Hotel.

Mrs. Eileen Ohnesorg, Arnot Avenue, is spending a week in Seattle as the guest of Mrs. Peter Andrea, Broadmoor.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mayhew left today for California, where they will spend the next three weeks at Santa Monica and other holiday resorts.

Miss Isabel Anderson arrived today from Seattle, where she is attending the University of Washington, to spend the Thanksgiving holiday with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Peterson.

Mr. Robert Gonnason and Mr. William Tysoe arrived today from the University of Washington to spend a few days with their respective parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Gonnason, 290 Beach Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Tysoe, Arbutus Road. They were accompanied by Mr. Edward Sheats, Portland, who will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gonnason and will return to the University of Washington on Sunday.

In honor of Miss Lillian Ryan, whose marriage to Mr. Eric Melville will take place shortly, Miss Doreen Pheasant entertained last evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Pheasant, St. David Street, with a miscellaneous shower, the gifts being concealed in a white pleated paper box. Chrysanthemums graced the drawing room and centred the supper table, which was presided over by Miss Virginia Ryan and Miss Gladwyn Beasley. The guests included the Misses Lillian Ryan, Virginia Ryan, Helen Baird, Valentine Harlock, Margaret Sutcliffe, Gladwyn Beasley, Rosanna Gillespie, Esme Kotchen, Audrey Eberts, Valerie Kennedy-Smith, Anna Byrom and Mrs. Desmond Burdon-Murphy.

In honor of Miss Patricia Kelly, who is to be married in December, her associates in the Provincial Police Department entertained at a "no-hostess" party in Terry's rose room on Tuesday evening. Upon her arrival, Miss Kelly was presented with a corsage bouquet of Tallisman roses and later received a beautiful china tea service with the good wishes of her friends. Amusing games were played and supper was served from small tables centred with vases of pink chrysanthemums. The guests were Mesdames S. Walsh, W. Crothall, I. Moore, D. Swindell, A. Brayshaw, C. Clark, M. Clubb, E. MacIntosh, J. Murray, R. Knott, M. Venus and Misses R. Steele, M. Thomson, N. Johnson, J. Jacklin, N. Thorburn, S. Jones, M. Metro, D. Robertson, E. Bourne, E. Kay, K. Burnes, I. Brinn and B. Hemmingsen.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Simmons was christened on Sunday afternoon at St. Saviour's Church, in the presence of immediate members of the family.

Later tea was served at the home of the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. D. Buxton. The rooms were decorated with flowers, the table attractively centred with a silver basket of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums. The godparents, were Miss Edna Simmons, Mr. Norman Lynn and Mr. Kenneth Buxton, and the baby received the names David Philip.

An enjoyable bridge party was held on Tuesday afternoon in St. Mary's Hall under the auspices of St. Mary's Women's Guild. Mrs. T. P. Waters, the president, welcomed the guests. Forty-four tables were in progress, 14 of which were played at home or subscribed for. The bridge was convened by Mrs. F. E. Blowers. Mrs. F. L. Philip superintended the refreshments, assisted in serving by Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. J. Butler, Mrs. Dorothy Symons, Mrs. W. Page, Miss Daphne Nunns, Miss Alice Down and Mrs. Blowers. The prizes were won by Mrs. J. Davenport, Mrs. Gibbard, Mrs. C. A. Carter, Mrs. Stuart, Miss Creadin, Miss Rev. H. St. J. Payne, Mr. C. W. Pangman, Mr. O. W. Pauline and Major D. Porteous.

Mrs. C. Sim, the former Miss Doris Boniface, was guest of honor when Mrs. J. H. Booth entertained at a miscellaneous shower at her home on Cook Street. On her arrival the bride was presented with a corsage of pink carnations. The many useful gifts were arranged beneath a white bell and silver horseshoe. Games were played during the evening, the winners being Mrs. C. Sim and Mrs. Skinner. A buffet supper was served. The guests included: Mrs. T. Skinner, Mrs. F. Cantwell, Mrs. J. Entwistle, Mrs. W. McIndoe, Mrs. Pilman, Mrs. T. Novis, Mrs. I. English, Mrs. O. Skinner, Mrs. Hetherington, Mrs. C. Grant, Mrs. Sim Sr., Mrs. E. Boniface, Mrs. I. Booth, Mrs. F. Booth, Mrs. J. Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. In introducing a young woman to one much older, whose name is spoken first?
2. In introducing one person to a group, need you repeat the stranger's name each time?
3. Is it important to get the name of anyone to whom you are introduced?
4. What is the one acknowledgment of an introduction that is always correct?
5. Is it easy for a person to get along well socially if he refuses to make introductions unless he cannot possibly escape doing so?

What would you do if—
 You are introducing a very young woman and a much older man. Would you say—
 (a) "Miss Smith, Mr. Jones?"
 (b) "Mr. Jones, may I present Miss Smith?"

ANSWERS
 1. The older woman's.
 2. No. It is all right to say, "Miss Smith—Mrs. Jones, Mr. Brown," naming the group, etc.
 3. Yes.
 4. "How do you do?"
 5. No.
 Best "What Would You Do" solution—(a).

Weddings

McKINTY-CROSS

St. Mark's Church was decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums last evening for the wedding of Eva Gertrude, second daughter of Mrs. F. G. Cross, Maple Street, and the late Mr. B. H. Cross, and Mr. William McKinty, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. McKinty, Royal Oak. Rev. O. L. Jull officiated, and Mrs. Jull played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Bert Cross, the bride wore a wedding gown of embroidered white organza over taffeta, fashioned on princess lines with bouffant skirt, and matching bolero. Her veil of embroidered net fell from a coronet of orange blossoms to form a train, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

The bride's two sisters attended her. Mrs. Charles Lewis, matron-of-honor, wore a gown of turquoise blue sheer with full skirt and shirred bolero, and a Watteau hat of turquoise blue taffeta with gold ribbon and floral trimming, and blue lace mitts, and carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums. Miss Eileen Cross, as bridesmaid, wore a gown of gold sheer with full skirt and shirred bolero, a Watteau hat of gold taffeta trimmed with turquoise blue ribbon and a flower, gold lace mitts and carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

The best man was Mr. Edward McKinty, brother of the groom, and the ushers were Mr. Robert Thorpe and Mr. Charles Lewis.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, who received in a wine chiffon velvet gown with black hat, silver fox fur, assisted by the groom's mother in a plum-colored gown of flat crepe with cut velvet sleeves and a black hat. Both wore corsage bouquets of pink and white carnations.

The house was attractively decorated with flowers and the young couple stood beneath a floral arch. The bride's table, with its Italian cutwork cloth, was arranged with pink tulles and vases of pink carnations and centred by a three-tier wedding cake. Rev. O. L. Jull proposed the toast to the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinty left for a honeymoon on the mainland, the bride wearing a dress of cameo shade crepe, an amethyst-colored coat with wolf collar and black accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. McKinty will take up residence in their new home on Rockwell Avenue. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Jones, Tsingtao, China.

Women Prove Good
Cooks for Army

By DILYS THOMAS

Canadian Press Staff Writer
EASTERN COMMAND HEAD-QUARTERS, Eng. (CP)—Women of the Auxiliary Territorial Service, eager to go to France, have taken over many duties from soldiers at the Eastern Command Headquarters and are regarded by the Tommies as "O.K."

All the army cooks at the headquarters have been replaced by women, and girls are working as clerks in the office and in the pay office, as mess servants, store women, private car drivers and ambulance drivers.

A number of the First Aid Nursing Yeomanry whose job it is to drive and maintain ambulances are attached to the headquarters. They are expert motor mechanics and many of them do the repairs to their ambulances which are mainly converted lorries.

COOK FOR HUNDREDS

Girls in the cookhouse cook for about 300 men and women. There's no gas or electricity here and huge coal-burning cookers which have to be lit early each morning and kept going all day are used for cooking.

"I don't think any of the girls were cooks before joining," the leader cook said. "They are simply wonderful. Practically every day we have to prepare and cook two hundredweight of potatoes for dinner. We have one man to help with the stoking."

"A.T.S. women are allowed out of barracks while off duty," an officer said. "Their passes expire at 10 p.m. and 'lights out' is at 10.30. That may sound early but the girls are up very early in the morning."

"Moderate make-up is allowed. It would be an awful mistake if we lost our feminine individuality because we are doing this job."

Age limit for the A.T.S. is from 18 to 43. Rate of pay for a volunteer—a private in ordinary army language—is 30 cents a day with uniform provided and all food found. Allowances for dependents are under consideration.

It is called Don Juan—the lipstick that stays on. It is everything you have ever wanted a lipstick to be—smooth, firm, natural looking, constant in color—and it is made of only the purest ingredients. Twelve delightful shades. Catherinettes' to Dance Sunday

French Government Revives Quaint Spinster Carnival

PARIS (AP) — The French government will relax its war measures and—in the interest of tradition and marriage—permit Parisians to dance next Sunday for the first time since the war began.

They will celebrate the festival of the 1914 class of "Catherinettes," girls who have reached the age of 25 without marrying.

The fete of Saint Catharine every year is one of the most picturesque of Paris carnivals. On this day the "Catherinettes" don special bonnets and set out in search of husbands.

In the evening there are balls to which the "Catherinettes" invite their special candidates for matrimony. These dances, which will take place Sunday this year although the actual saint's day is Saturday, must end by 11 p.m., the wartime closing hour.

Clubwomen's News

The W.A. to Trades and Labor will hold the regular meeting at 8 this evening in the small Labor Hall, 602 Broughton Street.

St. Mary's Girls' W.A. will hold a tea in hall, Yates Street, Saturday at 3 p.m., with home cooking and candy stalls.

The afternoon branch of St. John's W.A. will hold its regular meeting in the guild room next Tuesday at 2.30. Nomination of officers for the ensuing year.

South Saanich Women's Institute will hold a 500 card party at the Temperance Hall, East Saanich Road, tomorrow evening. Good prizes will be given and refreshments served.

The W.A. to Pro Patria Branch Canadian Legion held a card social on Tuesday in the V.M.I. rooms. The prizewinners were: Mrs. W. Renfrew, Mrs. T. Smith, Mrs. F. Beaven, Mr. N. H. White, Mrs. Belanger and A. E. Lamb. There will be another social on Friday evening at 8 in the same rooms. Whist and 500 will be played. Refreshments will be served.

Y.W.C.A. NOTES

Members of the Omphalos Club were entertained recently by Mrs. Walter Walker, who is a member of the Girls' Work Committee. After a short business meeting, the girls enjoyed games, led by Evelyn Rhodes, and music, with Marjorie McConnell at the piano. Refreshments were served later, and presiding at the turns were Miss Charlotte Crawford, leader of the club, and Miss Dorothy Beech, Girls' Work Secretary. This evening, Mrs. K. O. Wright, also a member of the Girls' Work Committee, will entertain the members of the Live Yers Club. Mrs. G. H. Scarlett, another committee member, will be hostess to members of the Versatile Club on the following Thursday, when she will be assisted by Mrs. P. A. Gibbs.

A "December Frolic" will be sponsored by club girls on Tuesday, December 5, from 8.30 to 12, with dancing to the music of Fred Pitt's orchestra. A buffet supper will be served and tickets may be secured at the Y.M.C.A. or Y.W.C.A. Plans are also under way for the annual Y.W.-Y.M. New Year's Eve festivities. This year's function will include a musical program, from 10 to 11.15, followed by a buffet supper and dancing from 12 till 2.

The Camera Club this week will visit the Y.M.C.A. dark room and the next meeting will bring Mr. Maurice Pickering to address the group on a topic of interest. Leather work is proving very popular in the hobby class and there is still room for more who would like to learn this interesting craft.

Ladysmith H.Y. girls are planning a week-end conference, when the Girls' Work Secretary will be present on Friday of this week. Miss Eleanor Leach of the school staff is the advisor.

WORLD FAIR OFFER BY BILLY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Rose, the little man who does big things, had a taste of a world's fair last summer, so now he wants to run one all by himself.

He telegraphed Mayor Angelo Rossi of San Francisco he would be willing to put $1,000,000 in the San Francisco Golden Gate Exposition for 1940 if he could run it without interference along certain constructive lines.

The destiny of the Pacific coast fair is undecided. Yesterday promoters said they had failed to raise enough money to assure a second season. The federal bank-

Duchess Angry at Wealthy Workers

LONDON (CP)—The Duchess of Westminster, noticing a considerable number of wealthy women in paid wartime jobs, has broken out like an angry member of the House of Lords.

"I am continually coming across cases of wealthy women who took on jobs in a voluntary capacity and who, now that the war has started, have obtained well-paid jobs," the duchess said. "They ought to make way for the hundreds of competent women who are literally starving. There is plenty of voluntary work to be done. It may be that eventually there will be paid jobs for all who want them, but in the meantime they should go to those who need them most."

Appeal for Furniture

Hard times have struck a young married couple with a small baby; the Family Welfare Association reports. They have no furniture or bedding, yet they find it impossible to keep up the expenses of living in furnished rooms. They need quilts or blankets for a double bed and for the baby's cot, one pair of double sheets, mattress for a double or single bed, dresser, two kitchen chairs and some homelike living-room furniture.

If anyone has any of the above-named articles stored in the attic, they are asked to phone the Family Welfare Association, G 2913, and someone will call for them.

Search for Lost Oregon Boy Fails

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (AP)—The disappearance of four-year-old Irwin Jack Maxwell continued a mystery today and only a few of the 1,500 persons, who made up the original searching party, refused to abandon hope of finding the freckle-faced, red-haired youngster.

lead had been exhausted and expressed the belief that if the youngster had become lost in the sagebrush-covered hills east of the city he would not be found alive.

There was speculation that he might have been abducted, but the sheriff would not comment on such a theory.

YOUTH OF CANADA TRAIN AT PRIVATE CLUBS TO BECOME FIGHTING PILOTS—With Canada scheduled to become the training centre for the air forces of the Empire, private flying clubs across the country are already co-operating with the R.C.A.F. by giving preliminary training to young men who want to become fighting pilots. One of the fledglings is Douglas Cleland of Toronto, who is taking a 12-week course at club "somewhere in Ontario." Cleland, shown at left, wearing a mask to protect his face against the wintry cold of high altitudes, already has his private license. "But this is different," he says, "there's no fooling around." Lined up before a training plane at right are six air-minded young men who will get 50 hours' flying experience before going on for advanced training. Included in instruction is a full ground school course in navigation, theory of flight, engines, rigging and telegraphy. From the left: Hugh Rae, West Brach, N.S.; Tom Barlett, Toronto; James Tyre, Westmount, Que.; Flight-Lieut. Charles Burgess, instructor; Reginald L. Avey, Toronto; Douglas Hampson, Huntington, Que., and Douglas Cleland.

GREETS HEROIC AIRMEN—By virtue of their reconnaissance flight over Germany in the face of terrible weather, flight members receive personal acclaim from King George of England on return to base.

DOVER PATROL SUBMARINE RAIDERS' DEADLIEST FOE—As impressive an instrument as you could hope to see functioning in this war, was the comment of Leland Stowe, noted war correspondent, after a run aboard one of the British navy's trim destroyers. And these "fox terriers" of Britain's fleet, notably attached to the famed Dover patrol, are among the most vital and important of the weapons

Britain is using to win the war. Day and night these sleek, streamlined destroyers, throbbing with power and with speed to burn, criss-cross the English Channel in the never-ending job of safeguarding Allied shipping. They have convoyed thousands of guns and scores of thousands of troops safely to France, and their depth charges and torpedoes are death to marauding submarines. An idea of their armament is given in the picture at left, which shows torpedo tubes manned and ready to release their "tin fish." In the background are anti-aircraft guns, with which these warships have successfully fought off numerous air attacks since the war began. At right, two destroyers meet and pass, covering the Channel thoroughly to keep the sea lanes safe.

ATTACKED BY EAGLE, WINS FIGHT—When an eagle he was trying to frighten away from the farmyard turned and swooped at him, with talons extended, Jesse Hobbs, 23, of North Dumfries township, near Galt, Ont., beat off the six-foot bird with an iron bar, breaking one wing before finally killing it. Sitting in the house before dinner, Hobbs saw the eagle pounce down on some ducks. He ran out with the bar. The eagle measured six feet six inches from wing tip to wing tip, and was three feet long.

'ROMEO' AND 'JULIET' A-COURTING—The curtain falls on a happy ending to New York's serio-comic Romeo and Juliet drama. At right, leaving U.S. Supreme Court in triumph, is George (Romeo) Lowther 3rd. He and Eileen Herrick, socialite, are in love, planned to marry. But stern father Walter Herrick, objected, kept the lovers separated. Lowther got writ of habeas corpus compelling Herrick to produce his daughter in court. There "Juliet" vowed her love for "Romeo" and her willingness to marry him. Judge ordered father to permit them to meet after 10 days, and marry if they want to. At left, above, father looks grim, Eileen gay, as they leave court together.

THE HEIR TO THE DUTCH THRONE here presides at a committee meeting of the Red Cross Society of Holland in which she is active. All over the world the International Red Cross is appealing for funds to meet the emergencies which war has brought both to belligerent countries and to neutrals. The Canadian Red Cross is asking for $3,000,000.

MOMENT OF SUSPENSE—This 66th Infantry tank literally was "stumped" by the obstacle of tree trunks built by the 5th Engineers. Tank trapping was part of U.S. army demonstration at Fort Belvoir, Va.

ENFORCE MARTIAL LAW IN PRAGUE—A striking view of some of the 10,000 picked troops of Adolf Hitler's Elite Guards, who are now patrolling and garrisoning Prague after martial law was clamped down on the Czech city after the execution, by a German firing squad, of three additional Czech rebels, including two police officers. With 12 alleged Czech ringleaders known to have been executed and 120 other Czechs reportedly slain and 8,000 taken in custody, the martial law proclamation was proclaimed soon after the Nazi-controlled Prague radio broadcast an appeal by former Czech President Emil Hacha to the people to keep the peace by refraining from violent outbreaks against the German authorities. The Elite Guards are equipped with field and machine guns to aid them in enforcing the drastic military rule, not only on the former Czech capital, but also on outlying towns.

CHIEF OF FINLAND'S A.R.P. PROGRAM—Pushed somewhat to the background in recent news, but still a vital issue in Finland, is Russia's Baltic expansion drive and her threat to Finland's integrity. Finland is still fully mobilized and in a constant state of preparedness. Shown here is the man responsible for measures against air attacks, Major-General Aarne Sihvo. One of the heroes of the war of independence, he was made a major-general at 36—the youngest Finn ever to hold the rank.

Coast Hockey

Vancouver In League Lead

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

GREATEST PLAYER in hockey history. The right to hold that honored title has been argued back and forth down through the years. Now it has broken out again with Sylvanus Apps, dashing centre ice star of the current edition of the Toronto Maple Leafs, as the centre attraction. Various managers throughout the National Hockey League, are debating whether he is better than Cyclone Taylor, Howie Morenz and Eddie Shore—to mention a few.

Jack Adams, portly boss of the Detroit Red Wings, calls Syl "the best player who ever had skates on" and "a greater hockey player than Howie Morenz ever was." Lester Patrick of New York Rangers came back with the statement that several years ago he had picked Cyclone Taylor, former Ottawa Valley and Pacific Coast star, and had had no reason to change his mind since then about the greatest of all time.

Dick Irvin, who played against both Taylor and Morenz, contended that Apps "goes by the players of today faster than Taylor or Morenz ever went by me." But Manager Art Ross of the world champion Boston Bruins hadn't been heard from. And Ross is always heard from.

"Shore, in my opinion, was the greatest hockey player of all time," he submitted on behalf of his colorful defenceman, who is closing his career.

Irvin, perhaps in better position to judge than anyone, would not express an opinion on whether Apps was the greatest player in history.

"You're going to miss the point altogether if you go off on that tack," he told a questioner.

"The point is this. Syl Apps goes by the players of today faster than Taylor and Morenz went by me. That isn't the whole argument but it's something."

"As for comparing Apps directly with Taylor, that's almost impossible, because conditions are so different. In Taylor's day there were seven men to a side and that made an entirely different sort of game."

These things Irvin said for Apps: (1) He hasn't reached his peak yet and may cause even more conjecture when he does; (2) he is a better playmaker than Taylor and Morenz, who weren't passers at all to Irvin's way of thinking; (3) he is the most graceful player on record; (4) he is more greatly admired by his contemporaries than any player ever was.

The Toronto coach said Apps still has something to learn about making the most of opportunities. Patrick spoke for all of them when he said Apps is "the greatest player in hockey today."

No one disputes that, now that Shore is almost through. This will be Apps' greatest season so far if he maintains his present pace, for he is in better health than ever and won't be called on to carry so much of a burden with a good stock of reserves on the club.

At 24 he is the most talked-about young man in Canada and still the modest, unassuming player he was on entering the league three years ago. The future isn't at all certain with Apps, because he has been nominated as Conservative candidate in Brant in the next federal election and has started taking military training along with the rest of the Leafs. But it is clear that, even after only five games, Apps is the player of 1939-40.

SEATTLE (CP)—The league-leading Vancouver Lions are set for battle with the Portland Buckaroos tonight with a confidence born in their successful 5 to 3 win over Seattle Sea Hawks yesterday.

Two third period markers moved the Vancouver team to the top of the Pacific Coast Hockey League heap in a game that was deadlocked 3 to 3 at the end of the middle period.

Fiery Jean Pusie and Morey Rimstad scored the winning goals to add to the three points Lyle Palm, Lulu Lennon and Jack Adams netted for Vancouver in the opening frame.

Dave Downie tallied in the opener and repeated in the second along with Frank Daley for Hawks' points.

The margin of Lions' superiority was their ability to split the Seattle defence. They make a tough night of it for Len Pinke, making his first home appearance as goalie for Sea Hawks. Pinke made a half-dozen spectacular stops but most of the Vancouver scoring thrusts were from too close in for him to have a chance.

The game was fast for an early season encounter, with play lagging only in the first half of the final period. Then the Lions went to work against the hard-driving Sea Hawks and plunked home their two winning goals within three minutes.

Pusie took the puck in his own territory and skated through the Seattle line-up for goal number four at 11.39. To make the margin conclusive, Rimstad scored the fifth from close in on a pass from Owen Lennon.

The last period was a disappointing reversal for the Seattle supporters, who saw Hawks come from behind and tie up the game in the second stanza.

Frank Daley's second period goal was the most spectacular of the evening as he took the puck from Vic Ripley back near the Seattle blue line and skated the length of the ice to score.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Seattle, Downie (Daley), 1:10; 2, Vancouver, Palm (Mercer), 1:50; 3, Vancouver, Lennon (Rimstad, Pusie), 17:10; 4, Vancouver, Adams (Mercer), 19:31. Penalties—Daley, Mercer. Second period—5, Seattle, Downie (Daley), 1:06; 6, Seattle, Daley (Ripley), 2:30. Penalties—Houbregts, Gilmour, Pusie (2). Third period—7, Vancouver, Pusie, unassisted, 11:39; 8, Vancouver, Rimstad (Lennon), 14:40. No penalties.

Heavy Schedule Shuttle Matches

Contenders in the annual Saanich badminton championships at the Brentwood hall will resume play tonight with a heavy schedule of matches. Play will get under way at 7.

In order to get the matches started promptly players are asked to contact Maurice Atkins, official referee, five minutes before their scheduled playing time. The draw follows:

Think Nighbor Was Greatest

OTTAWA (CP)—Three of Ottawa's hockey authorities stepped forward last night to claim Frank Nighbor, one-time poke-check wizard of Ottawa Stanley Cup teams, as the greatest player of all time.

Thus did Frank (King) Clancy, Dave Gill and Alex Connell jump into the controversy that started when Jovial Jack Adams of Detroit Red Wings named Syl Apps of Toronto Maple Leafs as the game's greatest.

Others may place "Cyclone" Taylor, Howie Morenz, Eddie Shore and Apps at the top of the list but Clancy, Connell and Gill made it plain that in Ottawa Nighbor must get the decision.

"There never was anyone to compare with Nighbor as an all-around hockey player," said Gill, former manager and coach of the old Ottawa Senators in the National Hockey League.

"In his prime Nighbor could skate as fast as the best. He did everything so smoothly, so methodically and with such precision that his effectiveness perhaps was not as apparent as in others."

"But the reverse was true. Nighbor, while not as flashy as some, certainly was more effective."

Clancy, famed defenceman of Ottawa and Toronto, held that Nighbor was as good as anyone and added: "To me, he certainly was top."

Connell, who tended goal for Ottawa and Montreal Stanley Cup teams said "Nighbor was the greatest and most effective centre player of all time."

Stevens said the plan called for a contest under a set of rules to be drawn up and which would include some features of the Canadian code, including the rouge. He said Canisius College of Buffalo would probably be Toronto's opponents.

HEADS BOWLERS

Bob Crawford was elected president of the Olympic Commercial Tenpin Bowling League at the annual meeting held last night at the alleys. E. Jones was named vice-president and George Gurr, secretary. Executive members are R. Gray, C. Rawlings and J. Newton.

Bike Racing

Pedens Hold Second

NEW YORK (AP)—As New York's six-day bike race whirled into the 58th hour today, the team of Moretti and Yates held a lap advantage on the field. This team is more than 100 points in front of the Pedens' brothers, Torchy and Doug, of Victoria, B.C.

The Pedens, gallery favorites, have apparently been saving themselves for the gruelling stretch grind, meanwhile remaining close enough to a constant threat for the leadership.

Standing follow:

Moretti-Yates 988 9 329

Peden-Peden 988 8 226

Debaets-VanVleet 988 8 166

Rodman-O'Brien 988 8 173

Walthour-Crossley 988 8 122

Debaeco-Yaccino 988 8 94

Audy-Thomas 988 7 181

Shipman-Wissel 988 7 151

Bergman-Bolte 988 7 86

Letourner-Reboul 988 7 28

Maple Leafs In One-sided Win

VANCOUVER (CP)—Maple Leafs, who won the Dominion championship two years under the label of Westerns, handed University of British Columbia 46 to 42 defeat in an Intercity Basketball League game here last night.

Paced by Jimmy Bardsley who ran in 17, Maple Leafs ripped through the Varsity defence with ease and at the end of the third quarter had a 15-point advantage, leading 39 to 24. Maple Leafs were ahead 26 to 16 at half-time.

The league leaders let up in the final quarter, scoring only eight points as Varsity popped in 18. Doug Pedlow with 11 and Joe Ryan, student from Nanaimo, B.C., who counted six, led Varsity snipers.

TENNESSEE HOLDS ROSE BOWL FAVOR

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Undeclared Tennessee appeared today to stand out as the best bet to be invited to play in the Rose Bowl in the New Year's Day football classic.

Here is what authoritative sources say of the three leading teams eligible for the lucrative bid—Tennessee, Texas A. and Cornell:

Tennessee will accept an invitation if it is tendered. Texas would like one, but will not be brokenhearted if it misses out; they'll be bidding again next year.

Cornell will not accept a post-season engagement because of its agreement with its Ivy League brethren.

The Rose Bowl picture will not be completed until December 9. By that time the host Pacific Coast Conference will have played out its schedule. At present the University of Southern California and the University of California at Los Angeles are tied in the chase with one tie apiece marked against them.

Basketball at West Road Hall

Three exhibition basketball games will be played at the West Road hall tomorrow evening. Play will get started at 7.30.

In the feature clash West Road will oppose Champion and White. West Road and Sidney women's teams will meet with Esquimalt and West Road intermediate boys' outfits battling in the third engagement.

Unknown Driver Caused Death

A verdict of accidental death caused by injuries sustained when struck by an automobile driven by a person unknown, was the verdict brought in by a coroner's jury this morning at an inquest in Hayward's Funeral Chapel on the death of Ernest A. Brae, 1436 Camosun Street.

Mr. Brae was knocked down and fatally injured while cycling along North Quadra Street near the Lake Hill Community Hall last Sunday night.

George Sam, a log-loader at Kapoor, owner of the car implicated, said it was stolen from in front of his house, 1910 Blanshard Street, between the hours of 10 Saturday night and 6 Sunday morning. He had left the ignition key in the car and had neglected to lock the doors. When he went to get it to go to work Monday morning at 6 it was gone, Sam said. He said the car was in good condition.

It was connected with the accident through a portion of a bumper and a smashed headlight bulb found at the scene of the accident. Police found the car Monday on the corner of Chatham and Government Streets.

The bumper had struck the back wheel of the bicycle, wrecking the wheel.

A fresh fingerprint was found on the reflector of the broken headlight, Sergeant Eric Elwell of the Saanich Police testified. It did not correspond with Sam's fingerprints. The fingerprint was the only clue to the identity of the driver, police had found to date, Sergeant Elwell testified.

Frederick Brae, brother of the deceased, testified his brother had been in excellent health. He was 64. His hearing and eyes were in good condition.

Basil Walker said he came upon the scene of the accident first and flagged down Ernest Oliver to take Mr. Brae to the hospital. L. Lee next arrival, went to telephone the police. Walker said that where the accident happened it was quite dark. It was cloudy overhead, but it was not raining or foggy.

Sergeant Duncan McPherson of the City Police testified Sam reported to him at the station at 6.15 Monday morning his car had been stolen.

Dr. Douglas Roxburgh, who conducted a post mortem on the body, gave a description of the injuries suffered by Mr. Brae.

The jury was composed of F. C. Pearce (foreman), Thomas Spencer, Thomas Crombie, Johnstone Barr, Elbeck Wilson and M. D. Bryce.

MUSICIANS HEAR OF NEGRO SONGS

"Although there are very few negro spirituals in present collections which bear any reference to slavery, the sincere religious spirit of the suffering of the negroes who were brought to the North American continent," said Mrs. Allison Peebles in an address to members of the Victoria Music Teachers' Association, at a meeting of the organization held at Fletcher Brothers' last night.

Mrs. Peebles classified negro songs under four headings, namely, plantation, shout, pattoir and voodoo rites. The latter are very hard to obtain because of the secrecy connected with the rituals.

The speaker pointed out how rhythm was of great importance in negro spirituals, and stated that negroes have a definite feeling for harmony, and sing in harmony, the voices chiming in at unexpected intervals. This was illustrated by recordings of the Paul Johnson negro choir. Other peculiarities mentioned were the use of the pentatonic scale and the major scale without the fourth degree. These were illustrated in the songs of "Steal Away," sung by Paul Robeson, and "Heaven Heave," sung by Marion Anderson.

R. Cox, president of the association, was in the chair. Gwendolyn Harper thanked the speaker on behalf of the audience.

An eight-day remand was granted Isaac Kendall Kerr, charged in the City Police Court this morning with dangerous driving as the result of an accident last evening. A police report said Mr. Kerr's car and another car driven by Mildred Washford were in an accident at Douglas and Chatham Streets.

Continues Plans To Make Planes

M. E. Heiser, who was in Victoria recently investigating possibility of constructing an airplane manufacturing plant here, is continuing his negotiations for financing in California, according to a letter received by Alderman W. H. Davies.

Pending further development of his negotiations he requested Alderman Davies to inquire whether there was a small foundry available here which he would need to purchase and operate in connection with the factory.

BRITISH BULLDOG TAKES PRIDE OF PLACE IN WARTIME DOG SHOW—For centuries the English spirit of tenacity and unflinching stubbornness of purpose has been symbolized by the pleasantly ugly English bulldog, ready to be friendly but imbued with a never-say-die fighting spirit when aroused. It is that tradition which lends a timely interest to this picture of uniformed bulldog owners—a "bobby" and three women members of the auxiliary services—arriving with their entries for a wartime dog show. It was the first dog show of the war, held by the West Middlesex Canine Society at Kew Bridge.

Important Task For C. A. Magrath

C. A. Magrath, LL.D., F.R.S.C., of Victoria, has been appointed by President Roosevelt as the non-national American representative on the Portuguese-American commission for the advancement of peace between the two nations.

The State Department at Washington announced this yesterday and the news has been received in Victoria with wide interest. The commission, set up after a treaty signed in 1914, is composed of one United States citizen and one Portuguese citizen, plus one citizen of another nationality, representing each country and one joint commissioner.

Mr. Magrath succeeds the late George Herbert Sedgwick, a former Supreme Court justice in Ontario. Mr. Magrath, now 79 years of age, is widely known across Canada. In the early days he was mayor of Lethbridge and was a member of the Legislature of the Northwest Territories. He sat in the House of Commons from 1908 to 1911 representing Medicine Hat, and went to London for the Coronation of George V as one of the Canadian Parliament's representatives. In 1917 he was fuel controller for Canada. From 1925 to 1931 he was chairman of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario and in 1933 was a member of the Newfoundland Royal Commission.

A few years ago, with his wife and daughter, he came to Victoria to live in retirement and their home is at 841 St. Charles Street. Another daughter is Mrs. F. J. D. Pemberton of Victoria.

Vancouver Thugs Hunted

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police are seeking bandits responsible for two holdups in the city over night. A gunman forced Jacob Dick to drive to a lonely suburban section and hand over a small amount of money, then drove off with his automobile. Two men held up Miss Dorothy Wilson, clerk in a bakery less than half a block from the Vancouver police station. One threatened her with a revolver and the other took $9 from the cash register.

Spanish Duke Jailed in France

PARIS (AP)—Prince Ferdinand of Bourbon, Duke of Dura, was sentenced today to four months in prison on conviction of swindling a Spanish civil war refugee of $6,000 francs (currently about $1,100) last year. Frederico, Banuli, a Spaniard, testified he paid the duke to obtain news of Bauls' family in Valencia. He said the duke represented himself to be a Spanish Nationalist aviation colonel.

Holland Holds 6 Germans

AMSTERDAM (CP-Havas)—Six Germans who formerly were leaders of the German Communist party were arrested today after hiding in the homes of Netherlands Communists for a long period.

COAL OUTPUT GAINS

British Columbia's output of coal in October showed a substantial gain over the corresponding month of last year, the report of the inspector of mines showed today.

Total production was 130,715 tons, against 111,786 tons last October. Vancouver Island output was 66,184 tons against 58,535 tons. The East Kootenay area produced 44,629 tons against 35,826 tons, and the Nicola-Princeton area 19,414 tons against 16,125 tons.

MEN ON RELIEF TO OPERATE NEW FARM

"The most logical place for a man who has been idle for any length of time to re-establish himself is on the land," said C. A. Moore to members of the Rotary Club at a luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel today.

"There are over 2,000 men on provincial relief lists, over 45 years of age, who have not worked for the past five to seven years. These men receive 45 cents a day for meals and bedding. No man can live on that amount and retain his normal manhood. The food, which costs 15 cents per meal, is making hospital cases out of many and is costing the taxpayer more each year," said the speaker.

Mr. Moore, through co-operation with government and civic officials, has obtained promise of lease on 500 acres of land on Salt Spring Island, where men over 45 now on relief, who have an agricultural background, will be picked to start work on the first farm, which will be an experiment. The cost of starting the farm is being met with donations of prominent citizens in B.C. and government help.

The men who are picked will build their own buildings and cultivate the land. Stock and equipment will be bought. The men will run the farm under the direction of Mr. Moore, and will set up their own rules to be drawn up by a council. Profits will be shared equally at the end of the first year. Mr. Moore, although in charge, will receive the same amount as other members of the community.

A report was read to the members announcing that Rotary International had an income of $1,162,590 and an expenditure of $1,115,380 in 1939.

EMPIRE ENSEMBLE CONCERT FEATURE

A feature of the Queen Alexandra Solarium benefit variety concert to be staged at the Empire Theatre, December 1 and 2 under the auspices of the Victoria Celebrations Committee, will be an opening grand patriotic ensemble, which will include features depicted at the royal fireworks spectacle consisting of the sections of the British Empire which have responded to the call to arms.

Members of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team will be uniformed to represent the different nations of the Empire and all of the other artists taking part in the program will be included in the ensemble.

FAILED TO MOVE BIG FIRE HAZARD

Harry Haig, who makes a business of collecting wastepaper and boxes from local business houses, was found guilty by Magistrate Hall in the City Police Court this morning on a charge of failing to remove a fire hazard at his premises, 624 Gorge Road, in contravention of the Fire Marshal Act. He was remanded a week for sentence.

Fire Chief Munroe testified there was paper, cardboard and boxes piled against the accused's house, constituting a great fire hazard. The accused had failed to act on a warning, the chief said.

Haig admitted this, but said the city had refused him permission to erect a tin shed in which he could put the waste, and the business was his livelihood which kept him and a young man he employed off relief. If the charge were pressed he would have to go out of business, he said. He claimed he was doing civic officials a favor by assisting in keeping the city clean and received no thanks for it.

The court said severity of the sentence would depend on the efforts he made to clean up the mess in the next week.

Worker Injured

James Sault, Ruby Road, Saanich, was injured this morning while working in Yarrows drydock. It was reported he was struck by an angle iron beam.

The extent of his injuries has not been determined. He was taken to Jubilee Hospital in a C. and C. ambulance where X-rays were taken this afternoon.

Man Believed Poor Leaves $31,000

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—in a dingy, third-floor room of a building near the Union Station "Charley Mike," an itinerant pedler, lived and died—apparently in abject poverty. But this afternoon Moses Katter, who was appointed administrator, disclosed "Charley Mike," whose real name was Albert Howraney, had $31,000 in bank and building and loan association deposits.

India Negotiations

ALLAHABAD, India (CP-Reuters)—The working committee of the Congress Party today adopted a resolution leaving the door open for negotiations with the Viceroy.

The resolution says the committee will continue to study all means of reaching an honorable agreement in its demand for immediate constitutional reforms in India. The Marquess of Linlithgow, the Viceroy, has promised consideration of the question at the conclusion of the war.

Seizures Approved

CANBERRA (CP-Reuters)—Alluding to the British government's decision to seize German exports, Prime Minister Robert Menzies said today: "I entirely approve of His Majesty's government's decision, which constitutes a moderate reply to evident acts of anarchy."

Nazi Sabotage Claim

BERLIN (AP)—An official announcement tonight claimed a "number of acts of sabotage on German, Italian and Japanese ships between November, 1937, and November, 1938, had been committed by a German emigrant 'employed by the British intelligence service.'"

The statement concluded, "the first ship of English origin in which perhaps a similar act was undertaken by the order of the intelligence service was the Athenia."

Civil Liberties Hearing in California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Senator Elbert D. Thomas of Utah announced on his arrival here today that the United States Senate civil liberties committee, of which he is a member, would hold a hearing either here or in San Francisco next month. The committee is charged with investigation of violation of the rights of free speech, assembly and undue influence of the rights of labor to bargain and organize collectively.

TOPEKA, Kas. (AP)—Trapped in a tear gas-filled hotel room, an accused kidnapper shot himself in the head and died early today after a gun and word battle with a detective.

Floyd C. Wadden, 30, Davenport, Ia., auto salesman, told Police Chief Charles C. McKnight the man, still unidentified, abducted him in Davenport Tuesday morning.

Papers in the dead man's pockets indicated he was registered with the Iowa employment service at Marshalltown, Ia., as A. L. Morford, a butcher.

Wadden said he slipped away after the kidnapper had taken a sixth floor room at the hotel late yesterday and called police.

HOW MUCH WOULD YOU GIVE TO RELIEVE PILE AGONY?

You May Try This Simple Treatment AT OUR EXPENSE, IF IT FAILS TO HELP YOU

Many pile sufferers reach the point where they say, "I'd give a hundred dollars to be rid of my pile trouble." Fortunately for these people, no such amount is needed, because we offer you this simple test at OUR RISK!

Your local druggists, Modern Pharmacy Ltd. and Cunningham Drug Stores, will furnish you with a package of Hem-Roid (a full 20 days treatment) for not more than $1.25; perhaps even less. Use this Hem-Roid as directed and you will be completely satisfied with the results you get, or get your money back. We take all the risk.

A few days use of Hem-Roid will relieve rectal pain, itching and burning; reduce burning inflammation; promote healing of the raw, sore membranes; and give you delightful freedom from the agony of this annoying ailment. Many Canadian friends have written us of the really fine results they have had with Hem-Roid. It must be good because so many people like it and like what it does for them.

If Hem-Roid doesn't help you, it needn't cost you a penny. Make your test today and prove to yourself how good Hem-Roid really is.

I.T.U. Election

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—

Francis G. Barrett of New York, first vice-president of the International Typographical Union, will be candidate for president of the union in the biennial election next May. Yesterday was the last day for members to file declarations of candidacy. The election will be conducted by mail.

Prince George Sells 10,000 Christmas Trees

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—

One carload of Christmas trees has been shipped from Prince George to California and A. B. Chatham, who is employing a crew of men in cutting the trees, reports five more carloads will be sent from here during the next two weeks. The shipments will include a total of about 10,000 trees.

Christmas trees have been cut and shipped from southern areas of British Columbia during the past several years, but this is the first time the industry has entered the Prince George area in a large scale.

CANADA TO HAVE SCORES OF NEW FLYING FIELDS

OTTAWA (CP)—

Practically any broad expanse of level ground in Canada is likely these days to become a busy airport to train the youth of the Empire to fly for the air force. Practised eyes of transport department engineers are appraising the country from the air, from the highways and the water in the search for new flying fields.

With thousands of young fliers to receive advanced training in Canada under the Empire air training project, between 50 and 100 airports suitable for training must be found quickly, so the job has been turned over to the civil aviation branch of the transport department, it was learned today.

MANY MAPS STUDIED

Provincial governments have been quick to co-operate in the hunt for airport locations. Provincial surveyors and roads department engineers have placed their maps and knowledge of the topography of their province at the disposal of the Dominion government engineers. Pilots of the Ontario provincial air service are scanning this province from the skies, and transport department engineers are flying over other provinces with a similar purpose.

With perhaps 100 training planes droning in swarms overhead at the same time, these training airports must necessarily be completely separate from the large airports the regular air transport companies use.

Such a consideration automatically bars existing big airports at main points on the Trans-Canada Air Lines network such as Vancouver, Lethbridge, Regina, Winnipeg, Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Moncton. Some of the T.C.A. intermediate or emergency landing fields will be developed into full-fledged airports for the training scheme.

The day of the cow pasture airport is gone. Modern airports are planned and built as carefully and as scientifically as a tennis court or a golf green. The air training airports must be sufficiently distant from heavy centres of population to avoid risk of accident or of noise nuisance.

They must, on the other hand, be close enough to railways and highways to permit maintenance of transport of supplies and machinery.

CLEAR OF HILLS

The airport must be free of all chimneys, power transmission towers and hills in the immediate vicinity. The level stretch of land must be carefully graded. A network of title drains must be laid so the surface will remain dry and firm after heavy rains or snow. The runways must withstand the shock of a pilot setting down a 30-ton bomber at 70 miles an hour and must give the pilot as little ground friction as possible when taking his heavy machine off.

Revolving searchlight beacons must be installed to guide pilots to their field at night. Boundaries of the field must be marked by colored lights and flood lights set up.

Transport department experts will be in charge of all this work. Construction will continue through the winter, so that as many of the airports as possible will be ready for operations in the spring.

'Conspiracy' Opens On Plaza Screen

How a radio man is plunged into the middle of an under-cover fight between the troops of a dictator country and a band of patriots trying to overthrow the government makes the exciting theme of "Conspiracy," new action thriller now at the Plaza Theatre.

The film presents Allan Lane and Linda Hayes in the romantic leads, with Robert Barrat also featured. Lane is a ship's radio-man who finds himself threatened by a spy aboard his vessel, and swims ashore to get out of trouble. Instead, he is in a worse spot than before, for both the secret police and the patriotic group are seeking him.

A girl member of the latter group befriends him and tries to help him escape, but they find themselves hemmed in on all sides.

'The Flying Deuces' Coming to Dominion

Laurel and Hardy, as a pair of French Foreign Legionnaires who accidentally escape a firing squad in a plane they can't fly, had the audience holding their sides with laughter again in "The Flying Deuces," which opens at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow.

There are plenty of thrills, too, in the stunt flying scenes in which their stolen plane bounces off cliffs, turns spirals and somersaults and finally noses into a hard bit of Africa.

"The Flying Deuces" is a tonic for theatre patrons.

Balancing the program is a prison epic, "They All Come Out."

CAPITOL BOOKS U-BOAT DRAMA

"Thunder Afloat," stirring drama of U-boat warfare, will open at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow with Wallace Beery and Chester Morris playing in the leading roles.

Deriving drama from the ever-changing world affairs of today, Universal's "The Sun Never Sets," with Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Basil Rathbone, Virginia Field, Barbara O'Neil and others, will open at the Capitol Theatre tonight.

While the new picture concerns itself largely with the romantic careers of two closely-knit couples in England and on the Gold Coast of Africa, it has its background

Around the Docks

LOCAL WOMAN BACK FROM ORIENT TOUR

Traveling by the Japanese liner Hie Maru, Mrs. J. A. Richardson of Victoria has just returned from a trip to the Orient. She reached Vancouver by the motorship yesterday and crossed the gulf by the night boat.

Other passengers arriving by the Hie Maru, according to William Harold, Great Northern city ticket agent, were Masao Sano-yoshi, president of the Nippon Kihatu-yu Co. Limited of Tokyo, route to Seattle; C. J. Meyer, cafe owner, Salt Lake City; Utah; John L. Little, medical doctor of Toronto, and Toshio Hyugu, of the Nippon Hasso Den Co. Limited, Japanese banking concern. Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Frank, missionaries returning from the interior of China, have been traveling continuously since September 15. They told of blackouts in China and traveling in trains with no lights.

Miss F. R. Jacobs, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha staff at Seattle, returned by the Hie Maru after visiting Japan.

"I was so taken with the country, I could have stayed on there indefinitely," she said.

Seaman Injured By Fall in Ship's Hold

With a fractured right leg and suffering shock, a seaman, Roland Baxter, was rushed ashore by launch from a freighter off Victoria this morning and transferred by the C. and C. ambulance to hospital. The man, it is understood, was injured by falling into the ship's hold. He is being attended by Dr. A. E. McKicking.

Oranges From Japan

The first large consignment of Mandarin oranges to be delivered on this coast for the Christmas season was brought in by the N.Y.K. liner Hie Maru, which passed through Victoria yesterday en route to Vancouver. Toyama Maru also carried a shipment.

Shipments of these oranges from Japan will be coming in until the early part of December. The freighters Florida Maru and Gyoko Maru of the Yamashita Shipping Company, shortly due, have fruit on their manifests.

Satania Returns

Completing her first round trip voyage in the service of the Pacific Northwest Orient Line, Ss. Satania arrived back in Seattle yesterday. The vessel left Seattle September 4, instituting the new service which replaced the American Mail Line.

Satania's cargo included 4,000 tons of sugar from the Philippine Islands, hemp, desiccated coconut, baled tobacco leaves and toys.

Tender Overhauling

The quarantine tender Salucan V, which operates out of William Head, is hauled out on the marine ways at Armstrong Bros., Kingston Street, plant today for general overhaul.

The tender will be out of commission for a couple of days.

TCA PLANES CARRY 15,260 PASSENGERS

MONTREAL (CP) — Trans-Canada Air Lines announced today its planes carried 15,260 passengers, 339,399 pounds of mail and 34,700 pounds of express in the first 10 months of the year during which revenue mileage totaled 2,202,702. Training and survey flights accounted for another 325,000 miles.

Fruit Juice Rates

OTTAWA (CP) — The Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada today approved of a proposed amendment in rating on fruit juices which had been submitted to the board by the Canadian Freight Association and against which Shanahan's Limited of Vancouver had complained.

The matter was heard at sittings of the board in Vancouver last September 25. The complaint was against a change in the classification for freight purposes of certain fruit juice products.

Freighter Strikes Bridge Abutment

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The 5,400-ton freighter Pennsylvania of the Weyerhaeuser Line struck a railroad bridge abutment at Delair, N.J., as she steamed up the Delaware River yesterday with a cargo of lumber and canned goods, but was able to make berth at the marine terminal here.

The collision ripped a gash in the port bow. A customs official at Philadelphia estimated the damage at $2,000.

Seamen Arrested At Union Bay

COURTENAY, B.C. (CP) — British Columbia Police today reported apprehension of five sailors from the Greek freighter Victoria several hours after they left the vessel at Union Bay, B.C., 10 miles south of here, where she was taking on coal.

The Victoria, under command of Capt. Petros Neamonitis, of the port, was taken with a cargo of scrap metal from Houston, Texas.

New Norwegian Ship Arrives On Coast

SEATTLE — On her first voyage to this coast the new Norwegian motorship Hoegh Silvercloud arrived in Seattle yesterday from Calcutta.

The vessel is operating in the Silver-Java Pacific Line. The Hoegh Silvercloud will go to British Columbia and return here November 29 to load for the Netherlands East Indies and India.

The vessel was built this year at Flensburg. She is 5,300 gross tons register, 414.3 feet long, 55.7 feet beam and 25.5 feet in depth. She has a cruiser stern. The vessel is owned by Leif Hoegh and Co. of Oslo.

SIRDHANA'S MASTER IS DISCIPLINED

SINGAPORE (CP-Reuters) — A court of inquiry into sinking of the British liner Sirdhana in Singapore harbor on November 13 after it struck a mine found its master, Capt. Philip Fairbairn, guilty of "wrongful default" for not acquainting himself with the position of the protective minefield. His master's certificate was suspended for one year.

About 20 Asiatics drowned.

Djambi's Rough Trip

"All the lifeboats but two small ones were wrecked and a big piece was knocked clean out of the bridge," said John Hughes of Vancouver, crewman of Ms. Djambi, describing the storm encountered by the Dutch vessel on its recent voyage from this coast to the Far East.

"The seas were so big they came right up to the ventilators," he said in a letter to his father.

"The officers' quarters were flooded and the engineers' cabins caught fire through water short-circuiting the electric lights."

The ship refused to answer her helm and when an investigation was made it was found that the steering house aft was stove in and the electric motors burned out. The second engineer was swept off a hatch into a winch, breaking a couple of ribs.

Hughes described how the crew repaired the reserve wheel, using the oars out of the lifeboats for spokes.

The Djambi, after being repaired at Seattle early last month following a mishap in the straits, was manned by men recruited in British Columbia when her crew refused to sail without a war bonus.

Qualify for Customs

According to word received from the Civil Service Commission the following residents of Crofton have qualified for employment with the Department of Revenue as customs guards: John Andrews, Albert Pope, Robert Gladhill and Ronald David Kendrick. They were successful in a recent competition held by the Civil Service Commission, Ottawa.

More U.S. Ships Change Routes

NEW YORK (AP) — Nine additional United States vessels operating to ports that lie in the war combat zone have shifted their trading to other fields to comply with the revised neutrality legislation.

The Chilean Nitrate Sales Corporation and the Lykes Brothers Steamship Company announced jointly that seven ships with an aggregate of 65,000 tons had been chartered by the steamship line to the South American corporation for six months to carry Chilean nitrate to the United States.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Vancouver Island, East Coast — Entrance to Nanaimo harbor — Gallows Point — Cutting light and fog bell discontinued — Alternating light and fog horn established.

New light and fog horn. Position — On Gallows Point: Latitude N. 49° 10' 25". Longitude W. 123° 55' 28".

Character — Red and white light alternately at equal intervals of 3 1/2 seconds.

Elevation — 15 feet. Visibility — Visible over an arc of 260° 30' from 213° 30' through west, north and east to 113°, with reduced intensity of light from 86° to 113°.

Fog alarm — The fog horn, projecting from the northeast face of the lighthouse, operated by compressed air, gives one blast of two seconds duration every 15 seconds, thus: (Blast — 2 seconds); (Silent interval — 13 seconds).

Light and fog bell discontinued. The fixed red and white electric lights and the fog bell at this lightstation have been discontinued.

Business Is Better But Market Hesitates

NEW YORK (AP) — Fortune served up a skinny Thanksgiving turkey this year to Wall Street. All brokers took a holiday today as the exchanges were closed.

The stock ticker, proverbially the pulse taker of business, has recorded only faintly the boom pace in steel, textiles, machine tools and other industries.

Business barometers register the highest levels since 1929, but share trading on the big board limps along at the slowest pace in 15 years.

Despite the September war spurt in dealings, transactions for 1939 have set a yearly pace well under 300,000,000 shares.

Gains Reach 3 Points

TORONTO (CP) — Stocks registered a moderate advance Thursday on the Toronto market in comparatively quiet trading tempo. Gold shares again provided the bulk of the business while the industrials, with exception of the aircraft and steel issues, moved in small volume.

The New York market holiday for Thanksgiving had a restraining influence on buying in the industrial and senior base metals. All indices were narrowly higher at the close. Turnover was down to about 310,000 shares.

De Havilland climbed 4 1/2 to 16 1/2 on substantial turnover, and Fleet Aircraft pushed forward for a gain of about 3/4. National Steel Car stepped up about 3 points and fractional gains appeared for the other steels, including Canadian Car and Foundry, Dominion Bridge, Hamilton Bridge and Steel of Canada preferred.

Implementers moved up with other industrials, particularly the Massey-Harris issues. Massey preferred gained 1 1/2. Walkers common, selling ex-dividend, was down 1 1/4 to 42 1/2. Distillers-Seagrams posted a minor gain. Foods, banks and building shares were a bit heavy and the utilities were irregularly higher. Senior oils also displayed a firm tone.

Changes were narrow in the golds and the base metal lists. Freston advanced to a new high at 2.24 and held a net gain of about 8 cents for the day, while the close was slightly higher for Teck Hughes, Sylvanite, Buffalo-Ankerite, Kerr-Addison, Chesterfield, McWatters and Madson. Nickel, Smelters and Pender-Oreille were base metal gainers.

Bids advanced for the western oils in the afternoon period, and the close was strong. Okalta, Home, Anglo-Canadian and Calgary-Edmonton all firmed 2 to 5 cents, and the bid for Royalty was firm at 33.

Pepys Described King's New Fashion

During the Great Fire of London, Pepys was able to take his wife and his money-bags to safety. The fire raged for five days. It was put out only after public officers blew up a number of houses and other buildings in its path.

Eighty-eight churches were burned, along with 13,200 houses. St. Paul's Cathedral was one of the buildings destroyed. It was built up again in later years.

FASHIONABLE FOLK of ab 1660-70.

The Great Fire caused suffering to people who lost their homes, but it proved a help in another way. The flames burned some of the oldest and poorest houses in London, and their place was taken by new and better dwellings. This is believed to have done a great deal to give the people better health. The fire just about marked the end of the Great Plague.

In looking over the diary of Pepys, we find a number of places where he gives notes about the dress and customs of nobles and other rich men of old England.

"I went to White Hall," he tells us, "and there the Duke of York had just come in from hunting. So I stood and saw him dress himself, and try on his vest—which is the King's new fashion. The whole court will be in it on Monday next. The King says it is a fashion which he will never change."

"I did see several persons of the House of Lords, and House of Commons, who are in it. A long cassock is worn close to the body. It is made with black cloth, with white silk under it and a coat over it. The legs are ruffled with ribbon, like a pigeon's leg. I hope the King will keep it, since it is a fine and handsome garment."

Pepys also speaks of how he shaved himself.

"Every morning this week," he says, "I trimmed myself with a pumice stone, which I learned to do from Mr. Marsh at Portsmouth. I find it very easy, speedy and cleanly."

A few days later, Pepys cut off his mustache. He declared he did it so he could use the pumice stone on his whole face.

Twenty months after starting the pumice stone shaving, he put down the note: "This morning I began a practice which I find easy. It saves time and money. I trim myself with a razor, and it pleases me greatly."

Pepys lived to the age of 70. During much of his life, he worked in making plans for the royal navy. To this day he is honored for what he did in building up British sea power.

ANSWER: Heat, not oil, as one frequently hears stated.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—My wife and I have been married for 20 years. Have four of the finest children in the world and I love her for the children above all things and do my best to provide for them and make them happy. But for some years my wife has been interested in another man who is much younger than she is. In fact, he is in school, but he has lots of money and on every occasion showers attentions upon her. She admits her love for him. The neighbors are talking and it is embarrassing. Her children need her. Have you any suggestion as to the best solution of this serious problem?

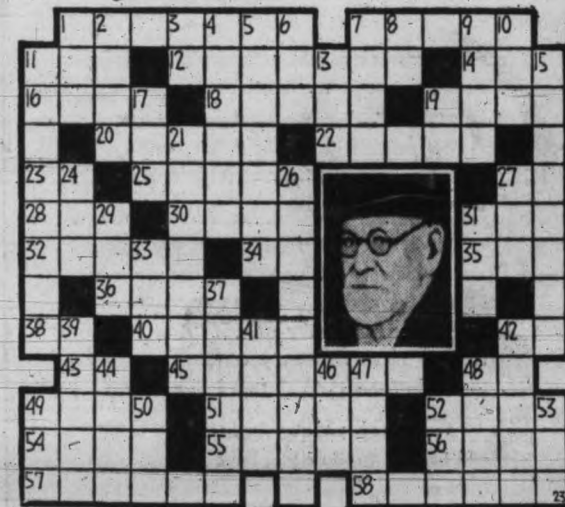

ANSWER: A philandering wife is even harder to deal with than a philandering husband, but if you will tell her that unless she gives up her love affair with this boy and behaves herself that you will sue her for divorce and custody of the children you will probably bring her to terms. In such a showdown she will find out that her boy sweetheart is merely amusing himself and has no idea of marrying her.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—At what age should girls wear make-up? How old should a girl be when she starts going with boys? Should girls show off before boys?

ANSWER: When girls have the freshness of youth they don't need make-up. But if they get any special kick out of using it there is no moral issue involved in the matter.

Most girls start stepping out when they are in their early teens, but they should only do so in crowds. Nothing is so unattractive as a girl trying to show off, and it almost universally offends boys because it embarrasses them and they do not know what to do or say.

Mingled good and evil planetary influences rule today. In the morning obstacles may retard important transactions. Executives may be overbearing and fault-finding. This configuration may increase the sense of power felt by dictators and other government heads.

Adverse stars affect women today, but they should throw off despondent thoughts. It is not a date for romance, since men will be preoccupied with business interests. Wise economies are recommended, and temptation to be extravagant should be overcome.

Engineers and builders of machinery come under a sway that promises extraordinary activity. Factories will turn out products at high speed. Women will qualify in vocations requiring scientific or mechanical training. Nurses will be greatly needed in this country as well as in Europe. The health should be watched, for epidemics are forecast.

Although employment will increase, relief burdens will continue. The seers warn against withdrawal of support from the needy at this time. Educational projects will be investigated and expanded.

Secrecy regarding world-changing events will continue to disturb civilians. There will be treachery among those who support dictators. The aspects encouraging revolutionary tendencies will be strongly active. Hitler is under an ill-omened star.

Persons whose birthdate it is may expect to sail their financial ships over smooth seas. Young people will be interested in religious or ethical movements. Most girls start stepping out when they are in their early teens, but they should only do so in crowds. Nothing is so unattractive as a girl trying to show off, and it almost universally offends boys because it embarrasses them and they do not know what to do or say.

Handbill Ban in U.S. Cities Vetoed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Municipal ordinances prohibiting the distribution of handbills or circulars on the streets of Los Angeles, Milwaukee and Worcester, Mass., are held unconstitutional in a judgment handed down by the United States Supreme Court.

The ruling says the ordinances violate freedom of speech and the press.

In addition, the tribunal declared invalid an Irvington, N.J., ordinance prohibiting the canvassing of homes for the sale of booklets without first obtaining a permit from the chief of police.

Why Not Make Sure?

It may be comforting, particularly in these times, to accept the belief that "what is to be will be." But would it not be wise to review your plans for the future security of your family in the light of present-day conditions... just in case.

All of us must realize that war brings many changes—perhaps in military service at home or abroad; perhaps in employment, in business, in family affairs. Now is the time to make absolutely certain that your life insurance will do all that you want it to.

Are you sure that your insurance money will be paid to those you have in mind? Do some of your beneficiaries no longer need as much protection, and others need more?

Do you know that you can probably increase the effectiveness of your present life insurance by anywhere from ten to thirty percent without any additional cost to you?

Do you know how much of your present insurance will give you an income at retirement and what the amount of that income will be?

Many such questions might be asked. Others doubtless will occur to you. A thoroughly trained Canada Life man will gladly answer them for you with absolutely no obligation whatever. And he may acquaint you with other facts which you should know if you are to get the most out of your life insurance. Why not ask him?

The Canada Life Assurance Company,
Toronto, Canada.

I would welcome an opportunity to discuss my present life insurance arrangements.

Solarium Seeks Support
For Its Health 'Miracles'

By S. G. CONNELL

Founded through the efforts of women of British Columbia who were determined to do all in their power to assure every child should enjoy health, activity and happiness, the Queen Alexandra Solarium at Mill Bay has been working health miracles for more than 12 years.

In that time thousands of young patients who faced the prospect of a life spent in a sick-bed, helplessness and possible despair, have been restored to a normal life. In many cases the cures have been complete.

Boys and girls who have arrived on stretchers, suffering pain, undernourished, with twisted limbs or useless muscles—and pitiful thin faces of sufferers, have left the Solarium as plump, round-faced, smiling, happy youngsters ready to mix with their schoolmates, join in their games and face life with confidence.

HAPPY DAYS IN A BEAUTIFUL HOME

All are not cured, of course, but all are helped. There are some deformities which can never be overcome, but the Solarium has ways of minimizing them, ways of substituting hope for despair, of teaching youngsters how to face their handicaps and, while it is being done, of providing the youngsters with happy days in a beautiful home on the shores of Mill Bay, selected because it provides more sunshine than any other spot on the continent.

To some youngsters, in fact, the days at the Solarium prove so happy that there are tears at parting, even when it means going back to home, mother, father, brothers and sisters.

After 12 years of miracle working the Solarium faces the grave prospect of having to curtail its work, the prospect of having to refuse some of those who apply to it so full of hope. It has been the policy of the Solarium to turn no child away because of inability of made so that he could be turned every day or two.

Gradually, as strength returned, he was able to take sufficient fluid nourishment, by sips, to sustain himself.

Peter attended the school and learned to do needlepoint.

Later came daily treatments in the hydrotherapy or keyhole tub. To the delight of Peter and those who attended he found himself able to move about in his warm bath.

Muscles began, in time, to flicker with usefulness and slowly got stronger and stronger.

A gain of 22 pounds has been made since admission. Everyone is looking forward to the day when this now hopeful and cheerful youngster first attempts to get up. Peter has come a long way.

SAVED FROM LIFE OF A CRIPPLE

Another case: Gloria was a small child suffering from the results of infantile rickets, her poor legs hideously bowed. First of all a regular diet of extra vegetables and milk was prescribed.

She would have been clubfooted for life but for the Solarium.

parents to pay, but, whether familiarity has deadened appreciation or not, the Solarium, hailed with such enthusiasm 12 years ago, is not now receiving the financial support necessary to carry out its work to the extent it hopes to do.

GATES WIDE OPEN

"A child whose normal physical activities are crippled by illness, accident or from birth, whether physical deformity is present or not"—in such words the board of directors define a crippled child. Provided a youngster is of normal mentality there are no restrictions on his or her right to admission.

At the Solarium are gathered children of different nationalities and religions, ranging in size from infants to 12 years of age in the case of boys. No parent need refuse to send a helpless child through lack of the money for its maintenance, as the institution has welcomed all handicapped children, regardless of the ability to pay.

Among the many cases treated are infantile paralysis, club foot, chronic asthma, deformities due to rickets, rheumatic heart disease, chronic (non-tuberculous) chest conditions, arthritis, malnutrition and debility.

PETER FIGHTS BACK TO HEALTH

Take the case of little Peter, suffering from infantile paralysis. Peter had been a perfectly normal, healthy boy when struck by the dread disease.

Fear soon gripped him as one by one he lost control of his voice, ability to swallow, and finally the use of his feet.

Peter was admitted to the Solarium. Quietly the staff of the Solarium went about restoring his confidence, assuring him that by taking things quietly he would greatly assist his recovery. Comfortably fitted out in a plaster shell, with splints to correct his feet, he commenced to put on weight. An additional cast was

In addition double doses of Haliver oil and Distrol, accompanied by sun lamp treatments. Quickly she became a new person—at least her face did. The bright rosy cheeks returned and, with them, her very winning smile.

When Gloria had made sufficient progress in body upbuilding she was ready for surgical treatments and bone operations. Casts were worn after each operation, but true to her happy outlook not a whimper was heard.

A few months ago the casts were removed for good, and today one may come across this freckle-faced, happy little girl looking with admiration on her now straightened legs.

SKILLED MECHANICS MAKE SPLINTS

Probably one of the most useful departments in connection with the Solarium is that which makes the splints and casts. Here a power-equipped workshop manned by skilled mechanics do wonders in metal and celluloid. The latter medium has been more recently introduced, and as a consequence light, easily-removed splints and jackets have been perfected.

It is essential that the skin be kept cool and healthy, and this is done by means of perforations in the appliances.

The men whose duty it is to create these all-important remedies take personal pride in seeing that each little patient is correctly fitted, so their suffering is appreciably reduced.

Can British Columbia afford to lose the services of the Solarium? Dr. Glen Simpson states in his yearly report: "If the services which we can offer to the crippled child are utilized to the utmost, some means must be found to bring to the attention of provincial agencies all crippled children. School surveys record yearly thousands of physical defects, but only a very small percentage of them are corrected. It is important that some method be developed for informing the general public regarding the services for crippled children that are available, and the method by which such services can be obtained."

Yet without the support of provincial, municipal and private bodies these facts cannot be made a reality. At the present time the provincial government pays 70 cents a day for all patients, with the exception of those who come under the Department of Indian Affairs. The Indian patients have their maintenance paid in full. Organized districts or municipalities pay an additional 70 cents. Nothing is received from unorganized districts other than the provincial grants. Where possible the parents make some contribution, but 90 per cent are unable to pay anything whatsoever. The balance of the per capita cost of $2.63 must be made up through interest on endowments and investments, donations, bequests, special grants and public subscriptions. This source of revenue falls far short of that required.

No investment in these boys and girls can be counted as lost that seeks to help a child or youth find his way through the mazes of his own disturbed thinking. For the handicapped child, the mazes are even more intricate because of physical hindrances.

An investment in the Solarium is an investment in the future of Canada.

MALCOLM STEWART
DIES AT ALBERNI

PORT ALBERNI — Malcolm Stewart, 30, passed away in the West Coast Hospital following a week's illness. He leaves to mourn his loss his widow and infant daughter, also his mother, Mrs. Marion Stewart of Port Alberni, three sisters, Mrs. F. G. Freeman, Vancouver; Mrs. R. W. Grassmussen, Portland, and Mrs. E. S. Bird, Seattle; also three brothers, Danny in California, Matthew of Cumberland and Hector of Port Alberni.

Mr. Stewart was born in Cumberland. He worked on survey parties for the Bloedel Logging Company, then came to Alberni to engage in newspaper activity. He was a member of the Elks Lodge and the Kinsmen Club.

Great U.S. Christmas
Trade Predicted

NEW YORK (AP)—An "old-fashioned Christmas, with gifts exchanged in greater quantity and variety than any years in the last decade," is forecast for the United States by the National Retail Dry Goods Association on the basis of a rising business trend.

Anticipating a 10 per cent trade gain, the association calculates sales in the traditional Thanksgiving-Christmas shopping spurge by department, dry goods, general merchandise and apparel stores will approximate $1,320,000,000—an increase of $120,000,000 over the comparable 1938 figure.
